City Council approves property swap for Dr. T.K. Gregg Community Center outdoor space

City Council unanimously approved a property swap with Piedmont Interstate Fair at their meeting on Monday, March 22 with the City gaining a new parcel to enhance the outdoor space behind the new Dr. T.K. Gregg Community Center. In exchange, Piedmont Interstate Fair will receive a small parcel adjacent to the fairgrounds nearby. City staff and representatives of the Piedmont Interstate Fair came to the agreement to swap ownership of the parcels. Piedmont Interstate Fair intends to use the New Parking Area for additional Fair parking.

GSSM wins multiple awards at FBLA State Competition

Hartsville, SC – Following weeks of virtual competitive events, the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) State Conference held its awards ceremony on Saturday, March 27. The South Carolina Governor's School for Science + Mathematics (GSSM) was recognized multiple times for outstanding performances.

Local winners include Minnie Liu of Greenville county - 1st place in Client Service and Nathan Stolzenfeld of Spartanburg county - 1st place in Political Science.

South Carolina Future Business Leaders of America is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) education association comprised of more than 2,000 students preparing for careers in business and business-related fields within South Carolina. This state chapter received its charter from Future Business Leaders of America-Phi Beta Lambda, Inc. on February 20, 1949, becoming the 5th state chapter. Since that time, this organization has grown both actively and numerically while continuing to serve its primary function: producing quality business leaders.

discussion with Founda-

The Spartanburg County Foundation hosted its 2021 Annual Meeting on Tuesday, March 23rd. This year's theme, "Responding to the Call" set the tone for an evening full of celebration, reflection, and honoring those who positively impact Spartanburg through philanthropy. The Robert Hett Chapman III Center for Philanthropy is the newest building on the campus of The Spartanburg County Foundation and holds the distinction of being the first Center for Philanthropy in the State of South Carolina. It is a model for philanthropy in Spartanburg and beyond, built upon its core values tion Trustees and staff who discussed how the very structure of the Foundation enabled it to be nimble, adapt quickly, and respond to the calls of the Spartanburg community. The development of a North Star and adherence to core values of stewardship, impact, innovation, community, and equity, allowed the Foundation to lead discussions, empower partners, and enable change while in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Each year the evening ends with the presentation of the Mary L. Thomas Award for Civic Leader-

Scrivner Award for Creative Grantmaking. Upon receiving the Scrivner Award, Thomas sought to start a similar recognition program in Spartanburg. The prize money Ms. Thomas received, coupled with the support of the Spartanburg community, enabled the Foundation to permanently endow the Mary L. Thomas Award Fund. The award honors individuals who, like Mary, are community leaders, innovators, and contributors to community change.

"I am delighted to present the Mary L. Thomas Award for Civic Leadership and Community Change to Chip Walters, Founder and Executive of Sidewalk Director Hope," said Mary Thomas, Chief Operating Officer with The Spartanburg County Foundation. "After 29 years as an educator at the SC School for the Deaf and the Blind, Chip felt called to minister to children in the city of Spartanburg. We appreciate her vision to see the untapped potential in our inner-city children, uplifting hurting and often forgotten families, and improving the lives of those in need in Spartanburg County.'

An ode to avocados

I've been preparing, eating, reading and writing about avocados for more than a decade. Never in my wildest dreams did I ever think that avocados would rise to their current heights in the culinary world. Avocados are like the child you have who goes from sitting quietly in the back of the classroom making a "C" at best, to becoming the high-school valedictorian with a full-ride college scholarship to Harvard.

Avocados are considered a fruit. They are one of the few fruits or vegetables that contain fat, but the fat is unsaturated and heart healthy. That healthy fat also is why avocados have such a creamy, delicious mouth-feel.

California avocados are in season from spring to fall, which means they will be easier to find, better quality and more affordable during that time. Avocados are one of the produce items with the least number of pesticides, so there is no reason to buy organic.

Avocados are loaded with nutrients such as dietary fiber, vitamin B6, vitamin C, vitamin E, magnesium, folate and 60% more potassium per ounce than bananas. They're also cholesterol- and sodiumfree. Two tablespoons of mashed avocado (about 1 ounce) or one-fifth of a medium avocado provides about 55 calories. To choose an avocado, squeeze it gently. It should be firm but give to slight pressure. Hard avocados are not yet ripe, but can ripen in a few days. Place the unripe avocado in a brown paper bag for two to five days. Apples or bananas can be added to the bag to shorten the process, because the gas they give off helps ripen the avocados. Ripe avocados can be stored in the refrigerator for two to three days. Always wash avocados before eating to remove any dirt or bacteria. Cut lengthwise and rotate the halves to separate. Use a spoon to remove the seed and scoop out the meat or peel the skin away from the fruit. Lemon juice, lime juice or white vinegar can help prevent discoloring. You can also press plastic wrap directly on the surface and then wrap to store in the refrigerator for a few days. If the surface turns brown, just cut off the top layer and eat the rest. Avocados can be enjoyed in a variety of ways, including mashed and spread on a sandwich in place of mayonnaise, or blending it with oil and vinegar to make a salad dressing. New online resource launched for kinship caregivers and children

HALOS, an organization providing support and advocacy to abused and neglected children and their caregivers, has partnered with DSS to launch the first-ever statewide online resources for the Palmetto State's kinship families. The new resource, Kinship SC, seeks to promote the safety, permanency, and well-being of these children. The website offers community, state, and national resources for caregivers like legal assistance, housing support, and financial aid. And, thanks to it being an online platform, families can reach out for supports, even during the pandemic.

"Kinship caregivers play a very vital role in the child well-being system, said DSS Director Michael Leach. "This website will allow us to ensure South Carolina's caregivers have the support they need to care for our state's children."

KinshipSC has also launched a toll-free number for caregivers looking for assistance offered by their online platform. Callers can reach a HALOS staff member 8:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. Monday-Friday at 1-(854) 444-3716 or visit https://www.kinshipsc.org/

Cooper Named Big South Freshman of the Week

Charlotte, N.C. – The Big South Conference announced recently that USC Upstate freshman outfielder Bre Cooper of Massillon, Ohio earned Big South Freshman of the Week accolades for the third time this season.

Despite only playing two games this past week, Cooper batted .571 in a pair of starts against East Tennessee State University. The freshman led the team with four hits, three runs, one homerun, seven total bases, a 1.000 slugging percentage and a .625 on-base percentage. Cooper finished second on the team with two RBI's. This is the third Big South Weekly honor of her career.

of stewardship, impact, innovation, community, and equity.

"While tonight's event looks much different than our annual meetings of the past, we're very excited to embrace this virtual platform as a way for us to connect with a much larger audience than ever before," said Troy Hanna, President and CEO of The Spartanburg County Foundation. "This gives us the opportunity to share our progress and future outlook with so many more of our wonderful partners and community members this year."

The Annual Meeting program included a panel and Community ship Change. This award honors an individual who has demonstrated outstanding commitment to improving the quality of life in Spartanburg County. The recipient is also someone who has developed innovative solutions to tackle critical community issues and seize opportunities to make a difference by offering compassionate leadership and commitment.

The Mary L. Thomas Award was established in 2006, after Mary Thomas, Chief Operating Officer of The Spartanburg County Foundation, was recognized as the recipient of the prestigious Robert W.

Chapman Center celebrates Youth Art Month

Each year, Chapman Cultural Center participates in Youth Art Month to recognize the talented children who excel in various art forms in Spartanburg County. The annual celebration features over 80 public and private schools of all seven Spartanburg County school districts. The artwork is located in the Coldwell Banker Caine Youth Art Gallery inside the Carlos Dupree Moseley building of the Chapman Cultural Center. This year, student artwork will be on display through April 28 and also available to view virtually on the Chapman Cultural Center website.

In addition to the youth art galleries, the Artists Guild of Spartanburg also features the artwork of talented artists as part of their annual Juried Youth exhibit. The Chapman Cultural Center campus is open Monday through Friday from 9:00am to 5:00pm and Saturdays 11:00am to 4:00pm.

The Council for Art Education (CFAE) administers Youth Art Month. Youth Art Month encourages support for quality school art programs and promotes art material safety. The CFAE administers the program at the national level. The program provides an opportunity for recognizing skills developed through visual arts experiences, unlike any other curriculum subjects, including: Problem solving, Creativity, Observation and Communication.

Chapman Cultural Center's youth art exhibits are part of its arts education initiatives that seek to incorporate the arts into the classrooms of Spartanburg County children. Two to three Spartanburg County School Districts hang and display the artwork of talented young artists in the Coldwell Banker Caine Youth Art Galleries. "Youth Art Month is a wonderful time to celebrate the thousands of talented students and teachers across Spartanburg County in one big exhibit!" said Ava Hughes, Education Director for Chapman Cultural Center.

Coldwell Banker Caine is proud to support the arts as part of their ongoing Caine Cares initiative.

Come join Chapman Cultural Center and enjoy all that we have to offer as we celebrate Youth Art Month!

Atlanta - DC BLOX, a provider of interconnected multi-tenant data centers that deliver the infrastructure and connectivity essential to power today's digital business, announced it has initiated construction of its Greenville-Spartanburg data center. The data center, designed to Uptime Institute's Tier III standards, will be the first-of-its-kind multi-tenant data center in South Carolina. The facility will be capable of protecting Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI), providing enterprises and government entities throughout South Carolina access to a highly efficient, secure and interconnected data center - for the first time in this market. With an initial capacity of 1MW of critical IT load, the first phase of DC BLOX's new Greenville data center is set to be completed by the third quarter of 2021.

DC BLOX continues to respond to shifts taking shape in the technology landscape, enabling businesses to digitize and implement distributed IT infrastructure solutions in areas traditionally underserved. The DC BLOX Greenville-Spartanburg multi-tenant regional data center delivers on this promise in both design and connectivity capabilities. When complete, the Greenville data center will offer access to DC BLOX's private and redundant carrier-grade mesh-network connectivity ecosystem interconnecting the company's portfolio of data centers throughout the southeast including: Atlanta, GA; Birmingham, AL; Chattanooga, TN; and Huntsville, AL.

"With the first Tier IIIdesigned data center now under construction in South Carolina, businesses adopting digital transformation strategies are set to have access to the most reliable and interconnected facility in the State," comments Mark Masi, Chief Operating Officer of DC BLOX. "Whether it's a prime location, cloud storage, disaster recovery, or an expanded data center footprint, we are proud to bring this state-of-the-art data center campus to South Carolina. Now, even more companies can leverage reliable and efficient data center services and private, high-speed, low latency network access to cloud providers and applications at scale."

DC BLOX's Greenville

data center is set upon an 8.5-acre campus in the Global Business Park off of Interstate 85. Upon full build-out, the facility will feature six distinct data halls with 54,000 square feet of data center space with a full critical load capable of supporting 18MW of power. The data center will also feature approximately 7,000 square feet of secure storage and shared and dedicated office space.

The new data center will bring five high-paying new positions initially to the community - along with an expected investment of over $200 million combined between DC BLOX and their tenant customers over the next few years. The projected investment is the single largest amount reported by the Greenville Area Development Corporation in at least five years.

"DC BLOX brings goodpaying jobs and significant capital investment to Greenville County, and we are excited to see their vision begin to take shape with this groundbreaking," reiterates Greenville County Council Chairman and Greenville Area Development Corporation Board Member Willis Meadows. "This new data center will help Greenville County accelerate economic growth and build on our reputation as a worldclass technology destination. DC BLOX is a welcome addition to our community."

"We're grateful to partner again with DC BLOX and CEO Jeff Uphues, who are making a vital investment in the Upstate. Brasfield & Gorrie brings significant mission critical expertise to this project, having completed more than $2 billion in mission critical projects companywide," adds Brasfield & Gorrie Vice President and Division Manager Ben Barfield. "DC BLOX's investment will have a significant impact in the Greenville community, where Brasfield & Gorrie has worked for more than 30 years."

Bridging the needs of companies throughout South Carolina, the facility will serve as both a core and edge infrastructure site, offering connectivity, scalability and accessibility to cloud on-ramps and a broad set of network solutions. DC BLOX's facility is positioned to vastly improve digital infrastructure capabilities for businesses throughout Greenville and Spartanburg counties, and the State of South Carolina.

Three easy design tips to deep clean and organize your kitchen

(StatePoint) Over the last year, our kitchens have become a place where we prep for an important presentation, help with schoolwork, cook meals together and laugh with friends at a virtual party.

All this time in the kitchen can also mean it becomes the catch-all room for everything and everyone, making now the perfect time to create a functional space where items are easily accessible and organized with your routine in mind. From your refrigerator to that messy junk drawer, follow these DIY kitchen organization tips to revamp and refresh this part of your home.

Design an easy-to-use clean) lavout. (and Cooking at home more? You'll want to clean and organize your fridge to make snack time and meal prep easier. Start by removing every item from shelves and drawers and toss any items that have expired. Once it's completely empty, give your fridge a deep clean, especially in those sticky back corners.

Before you return the items, place a water-resistant liner like Clear Classic EasyLiner on the shelves to add an extra layer of protection. Its smooth surface makes cleaning up a breeze when there are leaks and spills. Think about your most-used items, like snacks and veggies, and place them toward the front so they are easy to see and grab. Storing these foods using clear, labeled containers will help you track inventory and keep food neatly in order.

Upgrade your backsplash. Tired of white walls in the background of your virtual work call? One easy and affordable way to instantly elevate the look of your kitchen is to decorate with removable wallpaper or DIY peel-and-stick look! Another tried and true

From polka dot to vinyl wood, choose a pattern that speaks to you. Then, stick the adhesive vinyl to a kitchen surface-the side of a kitchen island, the wall behind the sink or cabinet panels. Once you're ready to switch things up, they peel off easily, so you'll be ready to go for a different option to brighten walls is paint. Use a quality painter's tape to tape off a design you love, then paint over it. Peel back the tape to reveal a DIY design you'll adore.

Create a clutter-less junk drawer. Everyone has that one, or even two, drawers in their kitchen that house random items that accumulate over time. Master unwanted mess and add functionality and style to your junk drawer with a little organization.

First, pull everything out of the drawer and toss anything that's broken or you simply no longer need. Next, line the area with Original Grip EasyLiner to keep your mail, important notes and utensils in the right place while protecting the surface from scratches. Once you've purged, add small compartments and drawer organizers to give the misfits of the kitchen a proper home.

If you have limited space, use a wall-mount storage rack or over-the-cabinet organizer to free up drawer space and keep items within easy reach.

For additional tips or to find the right organizational solutions, try the EasyLiner Guide or visit DuckBrand.com.

Once you've completed these simple tips and tricks in the kitchen, you'll feel refreshed and organized to take on the day.

Gov. Henry McMaster announces direct recuritment of pharmaceutical suppliers in S.C.

Columbia - Governor Henry McMaster issued Executive Order 2021-17, which directs the Department of Commerce to enhance recruitment efforts of pharmaceutical and medical supply manufacturers in South Carolina and directs state agencies focus procurement to efforts of medicines, medical devices, and medical supplies on those made in South Carolina. The new initiative will safeguard South Carolina from supply chain disruptions experienced during the COVID-19 pandemic by working to manufacture even more essential, lifesaving products in South Carolina. "This last year has made it very clear that relying on China for life-saving medical supplies is a risk we can no longer afford, and South Carolina can lead the way when it comes to bringing the manufacturing of those products back home to the United States," said Gov. Henry McMaster. "By successfully recruiting pharmaceutical and medical manufacturing companies to invest and locate here, we will bring good, high-paying jobs for our people and reliable access to the critical supplies we may need in an emergency."

The Department of Commerce will work directly with SCBIO on the new initiative. SC BIO is a statewide, not-forprofit life sciences and economic development organization formed to promote and expand South Carolina's life sciences industry.

"As a major driver and diversification of South Carolina's growing economy, the surging impact, reach and significance of the multi-billion dollar life sciences industry in our state certainly warrants the strategic emphasis being placed on it by Governor McMaster," noted SCBIO President and CEO Sam Konduros. "We're honored by the Governor's profound support, and this bold Executive Order further demonstrates his ongoing commitment to empower our statewide mission to build, advance and grow the life sciences and pharmaceutical industry in the Palmetto State like never before."

encouraging, and incentivizing pharmaceutical and medical supply manufacturers, both international and domestic, to locate research, development, and production facilities within the State of South Carolina.

Develop and execute international and domestic marketing campaigns that promote the State of South Carolina as a global leader in this Sector.

Facilitate, assist, and incentivize growth, expansion, investment, and employment opportunities at existing businesses and industries in the Sector located within the State of South Carolina. Identify and advocate for statutory or regulatory changes or enhancements to the state's existing economic development mechanisms for new business and industry investment or expansion in the Sector.

The Order also directs the Department of Commerce to review its existing operations and organizational structure to determine whether any changes would assist with the recruitment of pharmaceutical companies and to recommend any needed modifications to the General Assembly, if statutory authority is required to make them.

VA Extends Deadlines for Life Insurance

Nobody wants to think about it, but the need for life insurance is a fact of life. And now the cost of life insurance for veterans is dropping, opening the door for more of us to be able to afford it. After separation, we've had 240 days to apply and hand over the initial premium to transfer from Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance to Veterans' Group Life Insurance without having to provide proof of good health. After that deadline we had one year plus 120 days to file and pay, but eeded to submit proof of good health in the form of a questionnaire about ur medical conditions.

Now, with COVID, the Department Veterans Affairs has extended the application time by an additional 90 days for both categories. This will expire in June, but it does buy a little nore time to get insurance. To learn more about VA life insur ince, go to www.benefits.va.gov ice. Follow the Eligibility link: to see if you qualify for any of the whole menu of VA insurance. Con-sult the rates chart to see what your remiums would be. As an example a $300,000 policy for a 50-year-old veteran would run you $99 per month. Rates across all categories jump sig nificantly once you hit the age 55 col mn, so if you're considering it, don' delay. A $100,000 policy at age 30 will cost you a mere $9 per month.

At that same webpage you can apply to convert your SGLI policy to VGLI apply for service-disabled insurance ipdate your beneficiary, file an insur-ince claim and more, as well as getting orms for all of these.
