The Waybacks bring unique blend of bluegrass to Spartanburg on December 3

Merlefest fan-favorite, The Waybacks, are bringing their unique blend of bluegrass to Spartanburg. The four-piece draws freely from the old school and the old world, but The Waybacks are no throwback. They are storytellers and instrumental improvisers with a powerful sound, even drawing the attention of legend Sam Bush who played mandolin on their 2008 hit Loaded. The Waybacks don't frequently travel to the East Coast to play, so don't miss the chance to see them live in Spartanburg on December 3, 8:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m. at Twichell Auditorium, 580 East Main Steet.

Tickets are $30 - $40, and can be purchased by calling the box office at 864-596-9724, Monday - Friday from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Contour Airlines begins new nonstop service from Greenville-Spartanburg to Nashville

Contour Airlines began their new, nonstop service from Greenville-Spartanburg International Airport (GSP) to Nashville, TN (BNA) on November 17th. GSP is the first airport in South Carolina to offer scheduled Contour Airlines service. Contour Airlines is offering the only nonstop service from the Upstate region to Music City.

The new service operates five times each week, excluding Tuesdays and Saturdays. Contour will utilize 30-seat Embraer ERJ-135 and Embraer ERJ-145 aircraft configured with a minimum of 36 inches of legroom in every row, which is equivalent to first-class on other domestic carriers. Contour has no middle seats on its aircraft, allowing for more space between passengers. Tickets for these flights can be purchased now at www.contourairlines.com.

With this new service, GSP now offers service by seven passenger airlines to 22 nonstop destinations and connecting service worldwide. Nashville is the fourth new destination announced by GSP in 2021.

Making children's mental health a priority

The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP), American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry (AACAP), and Children's Hospital Association have declared a national emergency in children's mental health. Officials with the organizations say the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic brought on physical isolation, uncertainty, fear, and grief.

Researchers with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found between March and October 2020, emergency department visits for mental health emergencies rose by 24% for children ages 5-11 years and 31% for children ages 12-17 years. In addition, emergency department visits for suspected suicide attempts increased nearly 51% among girls ages 12-17 years in early 2021 compared to the same period in 2019. Converse University kicks off first-gen week with Blue Duck Scooters

Converse University is kicking off its 2021 FirstGeneration Week with Blue Duck scooters. On November 8, Converse is collaborating with Blue Duck to offer students a code to rent scooters for free as Converse celebrates first-generation college students the week of November 8-12 through engaging programming, community partnerships, events, and a scavenger hunt.

National First-Generation Day on November 8 celebrates the success of students whose parents did not complete a four-year college degree. Converse broadens the definition to include any student who may self-identify as not having prior exposure to or knowledge of navigating higher institutions and may need additional resources.

Converse now has a fleet of Blue Duck scooters on campus and was the first university in South Carolina to partner with the e-scooter company. Blue Duck provides students with a fun and convenient way to commute on the Converse campus and around Spartanburg.

Bringing new life to former Clifton Mill

OneSpartanburg, Inc. is proud to announce a transformative public-private partnership with Spartanburg County and the M Peters Group, an upstate real estate development company, to redevelop the former site of Clifton Mill Number Two.

Spartanburg County, who acquired the site in 2013 for $226,000, will transfer 30 acres to the M Peters Group who will invest approximately $60 million in private redevelopment and public improvements. Upon completion of significant enhancements, MPG will return approximately 19 acres to Spartanburg County as an improved public park.

"OneSpartanburg, Inc., works with developers to bring quality projects to the overall Spartanburg community. Katherine O'Neill and her team wrap support around developments to make sure that barriers are minimized or eliminated. Our team has been impressed with the manner in which Spartanburg County, the City of Spartanburg, and One-Spartanburg, Inc. work collaboratively and diligently with developers on their projects," stated Mark Peters, president of M Peters Group.

David Britt, economic development chair for Spartanburg County Council added, "Until now, former mill sites in eastern parts of Spartanburg County have not seen the same level of interest and investment as those in central and western parts. We have had high hopes for the Clifton Mill Number Two site, and are very fortunate that the M Peters Group has the vision to take it on. The project will be transformative for the Clifton, Cowpens and Glendale area for generations to come."

"Spartanburg County recognized opportunity in this site almost a decade ago and made the decision to purchase it. At the time, resources limited development to a passive park. This partnership with the M Peters Group will help bring a long awaited vision to reality," added Cole Alverson, county adminis-

PROJECT DETAILS

An approximate 30-acre former mill site situated along Clifton Glendale Road will be redeveloped.

The property borders the Pacolet River on both sides, is home to a spillover dam, and is partially utilized as Spartanburg County's Clifton Park.

The thoughtful project will maintain the area's natural setting and retain existing riverside trails, picnic areas and access points.

The multi-family development will include 239 modern market rate units, a blend of studios, 1, 2, and 3-bedrooms, offering brick balconies, natural light and river views. Led by award-winning firms Perkins & Will and SGA Narmour Wright Design, the architecture is inspired by the historic mill's setting, architecture, massing, scale and materials.

MPG will build public facilities to serve Clifton Park beachgoers, as well as repave the existing parking area. A small playground area with parking lot will also be improved.

MPG will improve an informal kayak put-in to become a formal livery, providing boat access to travel downriver for about 3 hours to reach a take out in Pacolet.

MPG and Spartanburg County will partner to widen and straighten River Rd.

PAL: Play. Advocate. Live Well! will expand the Daniel Morgan Trail System east with the addition of a 4.1 mile trail connector between Glendale and Clifton. The County and MPG will partner to develop a trail spur including a pedestrian bridge across the river connecting the site to the trail.

County. "One of the long term goals of The Daniel Morgan Trail System is to tie our urban areas together from the Pacolet River to the North Tyger, and this connection from Glendale to Clifton is critical in making that goal a reality. The 4.1 mile trail connection will highlight beautiful natural amenities - the Pacolet River and Lawson's Fork Creek.

thankful to find a partner who is aligned with Spartanburg's vision. This project elevates recreational amenities, improving access to trail systems and blueways, and creates new housing options a convenient distance from our urban center and the Cowpens community," added Katherine O'Neill, chief economic development officer at One-Spartanburg, Inc.

Located in Greenville, the M Peters Group specializes in transforming blighted land and abandoned buildings into places that contribute to the health, economic vitality, and quality of life of their communities. Optimistic about Spartanburg's trajectory, MPG is vetting additional projects within Spartanburg County.

Toy tourist bus

Buses were used for transportation as early as the 1820s, long before the modern motor was invented. They had horse-power -live horses pulled the bus. By the 1830s, buses were powered by steam, and in 1882, the first electric bus was introduced.

But the toy bus made after 1895 often resembled tourist buses used in a few large cities. It had a motor. The tourist bus had seats inside and out; if the weather was nice, riders could climb the stairs to go up to the top seats where tall buildings could be admired. There was no cover for the

The Kenton Hardware Co in Kenton, Ohio, made many small cast iron household items such as bookends, doorstops, small figures, ashtrays, cooking utensils and toys. A doubledecker tourist bus was made in about 1900, followed by a second version in 1910. An orange one sold for $1,020 at a Bertoia auction despite seven replacement figures with old paint. Many old iron toys have been copied; original toys should have a smooth, not bumpy, bottom. The seams between the molded parts must be tight and jointed with slotted screws. And most old toys have the maker's name impressed in the mold.

Q: Is there any way to test to see if an item is made of resin, bone or plastic?

A: Bone and resin are natural products. Bone has small black or brown pock marks called "marrow flecks." It's heavier than resin or plastic. Resin is an organic material made from plants and trees. It may have some tiny bubbles in it. Plastic is a synthetic material and is harder than resin. Although a resin figurine is heavier than the same figurine in plastic, it is not as durable and is more likely to chip or crack if dropped.

Clemson reveals first student-engineered autonomous prototype

Courtesy of Clemson University News Services

Creating innovations for the future and driving advancements in mobility requires a workforce of dedicated engineers, designers and creators passionate and knowledgeable about our industry. That's why Ford teamed up with Deep Orange, a studentdriven vehicle prototype program within the Department of Automotive Engineering. Housed at the University's International Center for Automotive Research (CU-ICAR), the two-year master's program empowers students to design and build fullyfunctional concept vehicles from the ground up.

For the program's tenth iteration, the students designed the University's first self-driving electric vehicle prototype for passengers. Throughout the project, Ford's role was to guide and advise students. The student team's hard work resulted in an inventive prototype: a self-driving, battery electric vehicle experience with humancentered design at the fore-front.

Built from the ground up

To bring this autonomous vehicle to life, the students started from the ground up to imagine use cases for self-driving vehicles. Using the human-centered design lens, the students focused on: giving time back to families during a commute or while traveling; connecting college students who might not have a vehicle; and maximizing productivity for business professionals on the go. Driven by these personas, the final design features a vehicle experience focused on passenger comfort and intuitive controls.

* Spacious ride: For use as a personal vehicle, the interior feels like a living room on wheels, with seats facing each other, low floor clearance and sliding swing-out doors for maximum accessibility. The team also envisioned a semi-transparent display screen on the windshield to show navigation and entertainment options.

* Touchless experience: With intuitive controls like voice and gesture commands, a rider can direct the vehicle to make a decision. For example, by pointing to a parking space or by voicing a direction, the car could self-navigate to the indicated destination. This could be extremely helpful in a post-COVID world, minimizing contact with high touch surfaces.

* Passenger comfort: The team also wanted to gauge passenger comfort via wearable devices that detect any passenger discomfort and modify the car's driving behavior such as speed and driving style to mitigate discomfort for things like motion sickness.

Driven by partnerships

Deep Orange is a soughtafter program for students because it provides them with the hands-on experience of taking a car from concept to reality. Students are free to pursue their creand industry partners at the forefront of cutting-edge research and creative thinking. This project also held a special significance for the team as the Ford employees advising the students were Clemson alumni from previous Deep Orange projects.

Nurturing the talent of tomorrow

Since hiring their first Clemson Deep Orange alumni, Ford has had great success bringing graduates and undergraduates from the University on board. Today, Ford employs over 50 graduates of Clemson's Automotive Engineering program, half of which participated in the Deep Orange program. Out of the Deep Orange 10 team, five found their home at Ford following graduation. Working hand in hand with industry allows Clemson to develop the best and brightest leaders driving the mobility industry.

First look at the design

From their early designs to the finished prototype, these Clemson students brought new focus and passion to a real-world project. Congratulations to this outstanding cohort of engineers. We truly will see a brighter, better transportation future, because of passionate, skilled engineers like the Deep Orange 10 class.

TERMS OF SALE: The successful bidder, other than the Plaintiff, will deposit with the Master in Equity, at conclusion of the bidding, five percent (5%) of said bid is due and payable immediately upon closing of the bidding, in certified funds or equivalent, as evidence of good faith, same to be applied to purchase price in case of compliance, but to be forfeited and applied first to costs and then to Plaintiff's debt in the case of non-compliance. In the event of a third party bidder and that any third party bidder fails to deliver the required deposit in certified (immediately collectible) funds with the Office of the Master in Equity, said deposit being due and payable immediately upon closing of the bidding on the day of sale, the Master in Equity will re-sell the subject property at the most convenient time thereafter (including the day of sale) upon notification to counsel for Plaintiff. Should the last and highest bidder fail or refuse to comply with the balance due of the bid within 30 days, then the Master in Equity may re-sell the property on the same terms and conditions on some subsequent Sales Day (at the risk of the said highest bidder).

No Personal or deficiency judgment being demanded, the bidding will not remain open after the date of sale, but compliance with the bid may be made immediately.

Purchaser to pay for documentarv stamps on Master in Equity's Deed. The successful hidder will be required to pay interest on the balance of the bid from the date of sale to date of compliance with the bid at the rate of 10.880% per annum.

The Plaintiff may waive any of its rights, including its right to a deficiency judgment, prior to sale.

The sale shall be subject to taxes and assessments, existing easements and restrictions of record.

This sale is subject to all title matters of record and any interested party should consider performing an independent title examination of the subject property as no warranty is given.

The sale will not be held unless either Plaintiff's attorney or Plaintiff's bidding agent is present at the sale and either Plaintiff's attorney or Plaintiff's bidding agent enters the authorized bid of Plaintiff for this captioned matter. In the alternative, Plaintiff's counsel, if permitted by the Court, may advise this Court directly of its authorized bidding instructions. In the event a sale is inadvertently held without Plaintiff's Counsel or Counsel's bidding agent entering the authorized bid of Plaintiff for this specifically captioned matter, the sale shall be null and void and the property shall be readvertised for sale on the next available sale date.

counsel make representations as to the integrity of the title or the fair market value of the property offered for sale. Prior to bidding you may wish to review the current state law or seek the advice of any attorney licensed in South Carolina.

Fall tips to kick start the financial road to college

(StatePoint) Fall kick starts the financial road to college for parents of high school seniors. But if you're like the majority of parents, you both value the importance of a college degree, while harboring anxiety about the price tag.

In a recent College Ave Student Loans parent survey conducted by Barnes & Noble Insights, 85% of parents agree that earning a degree is more important than ever. At the same time, most parents surveyed agree that the cost of college is more of a financial burden than in previous years, that the cost is surprisingly high, and find paying to be stressful.

As you begin making your financial plans, consider these tips:

• Build a smart college list: Encourage your child to apply to a mix of private and public schools as sometimes merit aid from private universities can make costs comparable to public options. By applying to a variety of schools, you can compare financial aid award packages and identify a school that's not only a good academic and social fit, but a good financial fit as well.

Create a spreadsheet listing financial aid deadlines and requirements, which vary by school and state. You can check with your school's financial aid office to learn what paperwork is

One date to circle in your calendar is October 1. This marks the day you can begin filing the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). Complete the FAFSA this child attends college. Doing so is the key to unlocking scholarships, grants, work-study and federal student loans. This is also the date you can begin filing the CSS Profile, an online application that nearly 400 colleges, universities, professional schools, and scholarship programs use to award more than $9 billion in financial aid annually.

• Look for scholarships: • Apply for financial aid: fall and every year your Have your college-bound student seek out and apply for reputable scholarships. Be sure to read the fine print to understand the terms. One easy one to apply for is the College Ave Student Loans $1,000 monthly scholarship sweepstakes.

• Review your finances: The overwhelming majority of parents (97%) plan to help pay for their child's college education, according to the College Ave survey. Of those, 62% plan to draw from their income and savings to do so. Make time this fall to review your financial resources to determine how much you can contribute without sacrificing your retirement goals. You may need to get creative. For example, 1 out of 10 parents surveyed find extra income from a side

• Prep your student: Many students learn their first money management lessons in college. Give your child the financial know-how needed to hit the ground running. Discuss how to create and stick to a budget, how to build an emergency savings account, and how to avoid peer pressure when it comes to spending. For example, just because a friend is dining out or traveling frequently, doesn't mean your child has to do the same. Also, discuss how they can contribute to their education costs. Creating financial goals now will help set your child up for financial success.

• Get savvy: As you navigate the financial road to college, stay savvy by referencing the free tips, resources, guides and financial expert advice available at collegeavestudentloans.com/blog.

College costs can surprise many families. Don't get caught off guard. To get financially prepared, use the year ahead to explore all your financing options and formulate a plan.
