Spartanburg Methodist College alumni success

It's never too late to chase your dreams, and SMC alum Dontrelle "Don" Deas '93 is living proof of this. Don, a native of Florence, came to SMC in the 1990's and played on the SMC Baseball Team. After graduating SMC, he began a career at BMW, but never gave up on his dream of owning a restaurant.

In November 2015, Don successfully opened the Low Country Shrimper restaurant in Mauldin. The restaurant's decor of nets and anchors is inspired by the nostalgia he has for the time he spent fishing with his father. The restaurant's food is inspired by his mother's home-cooking. Don says his mom is his main inspiration behind the restaurant.

Don also has a passion for helping others. He employs young people to teach them life skills and boost their confidence. "I like seeing the end result and feeling like I made a difference in someone's life" he says.

COVID-19 has had an impact on Don's restaurant, but he is not letting that slow him down. In fact, Don is set to open a new restaurant called Pop's Cabin Creamery in Mauldin on March 1st.

Shuttle and valet service launched to support downtown Spartanburg businesses

Article originally from OneSpartanburginc.com

OneSpartanburg, Inc., the City of Spartanburg and The Valet, LLC have launched valet and shuttle services to further support Downtown Spartanburg businesses.

After completing a pilot of the free valet service in December, it is now available from 4:30 - 10:30 p.m. Thursday through Saturday. Cars can be dropped off and picked up by The Peddler on Main St.

The shuttle service allows users to be picked up or dropped off in the stretch from Main Street Pub to Spill The Beans along Main St., spanning out to Magnolia Street and City Hall parking lots. The app-based shuttle service is available from 11 a.m. - 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

"These services were the result of feedback from our downtown business community," said Katherine O'Neill, OneSpartanburg, Inc. Chief Economic Development Officer. "We believe this collaborative effort will benefit all downtown businesses by increasing access to storefronts."

Despite the pandemic and lack of large downtown events, data shows

The new shuttle service can be accessed by downloading the My Trax GPS app, which will use the drivers' location to send a street-legal golf cart (similar to the one above) for pick-ups and drop-offs.

that Morgan Square drew in 82% of its 2019 traffic during 2020, above the 80% benchmark goal identified by the Bringing Back The Burg Business Recovery Task Force.

The Valet, LLC, owned by Landon Cohen, will handle the shuttle and valet services, and related staffing.

"These parking and transportation options will help visitors and residents easily travel throughout downtown without having to worry about parking. As a result, we hope that this will encourage people to spend more time downtown when they visit, and explore what the downtown shops and businesses have to offer," said Terence Dawkins with The Valet.

The shuttle service can be used by downloading the My Trax GPS app. Users will need to enter the code "downtown" after choosing "view live tracking map." The app uses drivers' location to send a street-legal golf cart for pick-ups and drop-offs.

"As our downtown business community and our residents continue to navigate the pandemic, creativity and collaboration are Spartanburg's strengths. Born from that collaboration, this complimentary downtown valet parking and the new shuttle service will be hugely beneficial in supporting our local retailers and restaurateurs," said Spartanburg City Manager Chris Story.

Chapman Cultural Center and Hub City Writers Project launch the Southern Studies Fellowship in Arts and Letters

Chapman Cultural Center and the Hub City Writers Project have jointly received a $150,000 grant from the Watson-Brown Foundation for a new, three-year initiative, the Southern Studies Fellowship in Arts and Letters.

This first-of-its-kind program will bring one early-career artist and one early-career-writer to Spartanburg, South Carolina, for a nine-month residency of research, creativity, teaching, and travel, culminating in a collaborative project informed by the region. The program, which will begin accepting applications this month, will be marketed nationally to artists and writers who are interested in immersing themselves in the culture of the American South. Creatives interested in the program can learn more and apply at www.southernstudiesfellowship.org.

"By bringing dynamic creative people together with dynamic arts organizations and scholars through the region, we will set in motion new explorations of the modern South that will reverberate beyond our community," said Jennifer Evins, Chapman Cultural Center President and CEO.

"This grant is designed to create a life-changing experience for the fellows, to provide engaging intellectual opportunities for local students and citizens, and to create a model program for community cultural study through art and literature," said Anne Waters, executive director of the Hub City Writers Project.

Over the three-year period of the grant, each Southern Studies Fellow will be provided with a furnished apartment with paid utilities in downtown Spartanburg and a monthly stipend. Applications for the program will be available online in early 2021, and the first fellows will come to Spartanburg from September 2021 to May 2022. It is open to residents of the United States.

The initiative replaces existing residency programs by Chapman and Hub

In addition to focusing on their own creative projects, the Southern Studies Fellows will have opportunities and requirements for educational community service in Spartanburg County; these will include regular college and high school classroom visits/lectures, readings, open studios, workshops, and projects affiliated with the host organizations. The fellows will be expected to contribute up to 20 hours per week in the following areas: community service, artist-writer collaboration, and out-of-town travel for project research.

A key component of this unique fellowship is the opportunity to interact with leading scholars, artists, and writers throughout the South. Each fellow will have opportunities to travel in the Southern region to conduct research at cultural and educational institutions, which will inform their work and will be critical in the development of their ideas for a collaborative project that expands the understanding of the modern South.

Named for Thomas E. Watson and J.J. Brown, the Watson Brown Foundation invests in education and historical preservation, annually awarding more than $2.4 million in merit and need-based college scholarships to students from an eighteen-county region of Georgia and South Carolina. The foundation, based in Thomson, GA, also operates a grant program that encourages responsible scholarship on the South and supports historic preservation. Additionally, it owns and operates three historic sites in Georgia.

With roots that stretch back more than 50 years, the Chapman Cultural Center's mission is to provide cultural leadership for Greater Spartanburg by developing, strengthening, and promoting the scope, excellence and educational role of the arts, humanities and sciences, and to further their significance in the life of our community.

The Hub City Writers Project, founded in 1995, serves its mission to cultivate readers and nurture writers through its independent press, community bookshop, and diverse literary programming.

I heart Valentine's Day

Is chocolate a guilty treat or a great-tasting, heart-healthy indulgence? Do you use chocolate to boost your mood, or reserve it for special celebrations? Chocolate has been considered an aphrodisiac food since the time of Aztecs. It's said to contain a substance that inflames desire and makes the beloved one more open to romance.

Whatever your reason for choosing chocolate, emerging research shows there may be some health benefits to consuming certain types of chocolate. This is wonderful news for chocolate lovers and for anyone who enjoys celebrating Valentine's Day!

Unsweetened cocoa and dark chocolate appear to be healthier choices than other kinds of chocolate. Dark chocolate also is a delicious, heart-healthy choice for Valentine's Day. Blood pressure, cardiovascular health and insulin sensitivity have all been shown to improve from the flavonoids in the cocoa bean.

Other research suggests that eating chocolate makes us feel good – something self-professed chocoholics already know. Chocolate helps reduce stress and has other positive, mood-boosting psychological effects. Chocolate also may be connected to neurotransmitters boosting mood and lowering anxiety. Research is still preliminary, so nutrition experts don't recommend eating chocolate for those health benefits alone, but the research is something chocolate lovers will watch.

So how much dark chocolate or unsweetened cocoa powder is the potential ticket to good health? None of the studies to date have determined the optimal daily serving. Many health experts are comfortable recommending daily dark chocolate in small amounts – an ounce or two daily – if it's a food you already enjoy and can afford it in your calorie budget.

Making chocolate milk with unsweetened cocoa powder (containing 82% cocoa) stirred into skim milk and sweetened with stevia – as opposed to the highly processed and sugar-sweetened version typically found on supermarket shelves – is a healthy choice. In one study, chocolate-milk drinkers who used the healthy drink recipe showed marked improvement in heart health, including a boost to the "good" HDL cholesterol.

Not all chocolate is created equal: The higher the cocoa content, the greater the health benefits from flavonoids, which help protect against aging and some chronic diseases. Following unsweetened cocoa powder on the list for highest percentage of cocoa is unsweetened baking chocolate and dark chocolate.

A final word of caution: check the ingredients label to see where sugar is listed. The further down the list the better, because that indicates a smaller amount of sugar. Weigh the extra calories in chocolate before you spend them – and then enjoy every morsel!

United Community Bank expanding, announcing corporate headquarters in Greenville County

Greenville — United Community Bank, a retail and commercial bank and one of the largest full-service financial institutions in the Southeast, recently announced plans to locate its corporate headquarters in Greenville County and expand operations in the area to support its overall growth strategy. The $24.8 million investment will create 227 new jobs in the Palmetto State. By establishing Greenville as its corporate headquarters, United Community Bank will become the largest bank headquartered in South Carolina.

Founded in 1950 in Blairsville, Ga., United Community Bank has over $18 billion in assets and 160 branches across Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, including 34 branches in the Palmetto State. In 2012, the bank began building its executive presence in Greenville County and now has three office locations in downtown Greenville apart from its branch network, and nearly 290 employees.

United Community Bank's new downtown facility, to be located at 200 East Camperdown Way near Falls Park and the Reedy River, will serve as the bank's corporate headquarters. It will also house a retail branch.

"We are pleased to establish a permanent, long-term presence in Greenville as part of our growth strategy," stated United Community Bank Inc. Chairman and CEO Lynn Harton. "As we expand across the Southeast, we continually evaluate the right solutions for the future of our company and see this investment as a significant step toward preserving the special culture we've built over the last 70 years. region."

United specializes in personalized banking services for individuals and businesses throughout its geographic footprint, which now includes Florida under the Seaside Bank and Trust brand. Respected national research firms consistently recognize United for outstanding customer service, including J.D. Power, which has awarded United the highest customer satisfaction score in the Southeast for six out of the last seven years.

"It is a testament to the overall excellence of our state when a company decides to establish their headquarters in South Carolina. We welcome United Community Bank to their new home and celebrate the 227 jobs they are bringing to the Greenville community," said South Carolina Gov. Henry McMaster.

United attributes much of its success to its unique, service-oriented culture that cultivates strong relationships between employees and customers. The bank has also developed and executed a strategy based on investment in its strong local markets and continued expansion in the Southeast's dynamic growth markets. Its business model includes empowering local market leadership that has an average of 20 years of banking experience, most of which has been in their local markets.

"With United Community Bank expanding in Greenville County and selecting the location to be the company's new corporate headquarters, we celebrate another big win for the state and local community," added Secretary of Commerce Bobby Hitt. "We look forward to watching their continued growth in our community for years to come."

"County Council has worked diligently to ensure a favorable business climate which enables quality companies like United to thrive here. This expansion and establishment of United's new headquarters in Greenville confirms that our economic development strategies continue to pay dividends."

Today, United has 2,419 employees across its footprint who are committed to maintaining the bank's extraordinary culture and creating meaningful relationships with customers, all with a goal of improving lives and communities. The bank has been honored for the third consecutive year by American Banker and Best Companies Group as one of the 2020 Best Banks to Work For, and Forbes magazine named United to its "America's Best Banks" list in 2020.

"At our core, we have the heart of a community bank, but we also have the talent, products and services of a larger institution," added Mr. Harton. "It is our mission to help improve the financial health of our customers and ultimately our communities, and we look forward to continuing to live out our mission for many years to come."

"United Community Bank has been an excellent, long-term partner to the city of Greenville. United's expanded commitment and decision to make Greenville its headquarters affirms the work we've done to retain and attract strong corporate citizens," said City of Greenville Mayor Knox White. "With our mission to support financial services, entrepreneurship and advanced manufacturing, Greenville is establishing itself as a destination for innovation and a first-class workforce."

United's new headquarters is expected to be completed by 2024. Individuals interested in joining the United Community Bank team should visit the company's careers website.

Turn Old Crayons Into Valentine Art

If broken and worn-down crayons are showing up in drawers, backpacks, art-supply tubs and even the car, don't throw them out! Instead, collect them all in a box and recycle them into fun Valentine art for the heart.

Here's how:

1. Remove the paper wrapper from crayons in your favorite Valentine's Day colors such as shades of red and pink. Let the kids break the crayons into pieces and put them into piles according to the colors.
2. Put the pieces, according to color, in small, heat resistant glass jars, such as empty baby-food jars.
3. With adult help, fit a small rack inside a sauceman, and place the jars on the rack. Fill the sauceman with enough water to cover 1/2 inch of the jars. Heat the water until the crayons melt. Keep an eye on them at all times.
4. An adult should carefully pour the melted wax into a plastic candy mold tray (available at craft and kitchen-supply stores in a variety of heart shapes. You might even find X's and O's). Or, use ice-cube trays that come in heart shapes.

The wax will harden quickly and pop out of the mold easily. You could put the tray in the freezer, or outdoors if you live in a cold climate, for a few minutes to speed up the process.

For added effect, pour a contrasting color into the mold after the first layer of wax has hardened. This will produce a two-tone crayon.

Now, try out a new crayon heart on a piece of paper and discover that it really works.

You and your school-age kids can mold some clever designs when you melt down the old and create new, attractive and useful heart-shaped crayons — perfect for tucking into classroom valentine envelopes for something extra, or for eye-catching toppers on wrapped-up valentine gifts.

Make multiples and share them with family and friends for Valentine's Day.

Fall in love with these Valentine's Day decor ideas

(StatePoint) As Valentine's Day quickly approaches, celebrations may include romantic dinners, Galentine's Day plans or even family fun. The experts at Dollar General have provided a few budget-friendly decor ideas that everyone will love.

Romantic Night in for Two

Make a night in special by adding a few romantic details around the home. Spruce up the dining table with a vase of fresh roses, candles and a decorative tablecloth—all of which is available at your local Dollar General the week of Valentine's Day. Also consider filling the room with colorful heart-shaped balloons and bowls of sweet candies. Dress up a wall or mantle with a banner and some of your favorite photos. Pitch a blanket fort in the living room for a fun indoor movie night.

Decorate it with a holiday-themed blanket and pillows to help create a unique and memorable Valentine's Day.

Be Mine, Galentine

For those spending the holiday with friends, incorporate all the fun Valentine's Day decor into a Galentine's Day celebration. Assemble a picture-perfect balloon arch by taping or stringing together pink, white, red and heart-shaped balloons. Create another space for photos by hanging streamers and a heart-shaped garland from windows or walls. Fill glass vases with red and pink candies for a charming coffee table centerpiece. Lastly, a message board could provide a fun opportunity for gathering gals to express appreciation or positive quotes. This can easily be celebrated digitally by distributing Galentine's Day kits to friends, so everyone can that share in the decorating and celebrating.

DIY Valentine Crafts

For a fun family night in, set aside time to create crafts with the kids. Crafting can be a great way for kids to express themselves, plus their creations can serve as cost-effective decorations. One example is to hang a paper heart chain, like a garland, above a fireplace or along kitchen cabinets. For this easy and adorable craft, gather red and pink craft paper, ribbon or string, scissors and tape. Cut out hearts and a small hole in a corner to string ribbon or string through. Another fun option is to gather the family to paint glass jars with hearts or sayings. Place tasty treats like cookies or candies inside or use the jars as a vase for flowers. Don't forget front door decorations! Find the directions to craft an easy DIY Coffee Filter Wreath for the door on DG's crafts web page.

For more holiday decoration inspiration and ideas, visit dollargeneral.com and browse under the Inspiration tab.

By planning ahead and seeking out decoration tips and tricks, anyone can be ready to celebrate Valentine's Day with less stress and hustle.

Tips to make this the year you quit smoking for good (StatePoint) Is "quitting smoking" on the top of your list of goals for the year? Was it last year too? Here are some insights from those in the know into kicking this habit to the curb for good.

"They say old habits are hard to break, and when it comes to my dad's addictive smoking habits, I couldn't agree more," says Linh Nguyen, the Houston style, fitness and mom blogger behind A Beautiful RAWR. "He knows smoking is detrimental to his health, but the thought of not having it be part of his daily routine has been a challenging, intimidating, and in some ways, scary idea for him to grasp."

Nguyen's family has resolved to help her father make this the year he quits smoking for good. For those 18 and older, consider these tips and insights she is sharing into the process.

and 4 mg strengths and are a good choice for people who may avoid gum due to TMJ problems.

- Build a plan: Quitting is highly personal. For a greater chance of success, look for resources that help you build a personalized plan. For example, the Walgreens team offers free live support and healthcare clinics in your area, as well as expert advice, treatment and tools available at walgreens.com.

"If they can help my dad quit after 50-plus years, they can definitely help you or a loved one," says Nguyen.

For additional support and information, visit cancer.org or call the American Cancer Society 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 1-800-227-2345.

When you quit smoking, you can lower your risk for a number of health problems including lung disease, lung cancer and heart disease. If you are attempting to go smoke-free, be sure you have all the support and tools you need.

- Identify your motivations: Quitting a smoking habit can be very difficult, but knowing why you want to quit can help you stick with it when things get tough.

"I think the biggest motivator for my dad to quit this year is our growing family. His grandkids are his world and I know he wants to be around to watch them grow up. To do that, we're all making better choices for a healthier, longer life," says Nguyen.

- Get Help: Quitting is often associated with challenging physical symptoms. However, products that deliver controlled, therapeutic doses of nicotine can relieve cravings and help with difficult physical withdrawal symptoms.

"One of the biggest ways

I'm supporting my dad is stocking him up on effective, pharmacist-recommended smoking cessation products from Walgreens, which are much more affordable compared to similar products," says Nguyen.

Before getting started, anticipate which products might work best for your needs. While patches are a great choice for many people who like to "set it and forget it," those who prefer to keep their mouth busy might prefer using a product like Walgreens Nicotine Gum. Available in 2 mg or 4 mg strengths, each piece lasts about 30 minutes and you can chew up to 20 pieces per day. Similarly, Walgreens Lozenges also come in 2 mg

by Freddy Groves

VA, Fitbit Team Up

Do you have a Fitbit activity tracker? If so, the Department of Veterans Affairs has a free program for you. The VA and Fitbit have hooked up to provide one year of free membership to eligible veterans who have the device. This couldn't have come at a better time, when we need more exercise, less stress and better sleep at night. Up to 10,000 veterans (including caregivers and VA staff) can get one free year of Fitbit Premium, which includes a health metrics dashboard, guided programs and more. Plus, you'll have access to coaching. Check healthsolutions.fitbit.com. Eligibility will depend on a few things, such as whether you already use Fitbit and where you are. A bonus for veterans who already use VA healthcare: You might qualify for a Fitbit Sense, which is the Fitbit health smartwatch. If for some reason you can't get into the Fitbit program, you have other options for exercise and working out. Step one is to call the gyms closest to you and ask if they offer anything for veterans. CrossFit, Gold's Gym, 24 Hour Fitness, OrangeTheory and numerous others offer discounts and special deals for veterans. Don't forget to try the non-chain locations. If you're eligible for Medicare, check into the Silver Sneakers program at local gyms; many Medicare plans will pay for that. Near a base? If you're retired, are a MOH recipient or have a disability rating of 100%, you can qualify to use the gym on base. For at-home equipment, if you're a Veterans Canteen Service (shopvcs.va.gov) member, check out the prices on equipment such as rowing machines and exercise bikes. Look online for a FreeCycle group in your area (freecycle.org), an online listing of items people are giving away. There are 5,300 groups across the U.S. Finally, don't forget Craigslist.org for people selling equipment near you.

Amended Complaint

(Jury Trial Demanded)

The Plaintiffs, by and through their undersigned counsel, will show unto this Honorable Court the following:

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium)

1. That both Plaintiffs are citizens and residents of North Carolina.

2. That Defendant (hereinafter "the Auditorium") is a corporation organized and existing in the State of South Carolina and is located in the City of Spartanburg, South Carolina and the incident addressed herein did occur in the City of Spartanburg and is subject to the jurisdiction of this Court.

3. That on or about March 24, 2018, Plaintiff Tristan Galloway (hereinafter "Ms. Galloway") was an invitee at the Auditorium. Ms. Galloway paid fees that were given to the Auditorium for her daughter to compete in a dance competition there and for her to be able to attend and watch her daughter compete.

4. That Ms. Galloway was walking down the aisle meant for invitees of the Auditorium to use in order to enter and exit the Auditorium's seating / spectator area when she fell causing substantial bodily injuries to her.

5. That the Auditorium staff turned the lights out where invitees walk and sit during the dance competition. The Auditorium failed to have appropriate lighting along the sides of the aisle or in the floor of the aisle or above the aisle so that people could see where they were walking. The walking area was made completely black by there being no appropriate lighting once the overhead lights in the Auditorium were turned off.

6. That the walking aisle is carpeted and has slopes that must be navigated by those walking in the aisle. It is imperative for there to be lighting in this area to allow invitees to avoid falling over the slopes. The use of slopes combined with no appropriate lighting created a dangerous situation that was hidden from the invitees and created by the Auditorium.

7. That the Auditorium failed to post signs warning invitees of the dangerous conditions; therefore, the failure to warn combined with the walking aisle having no appropriate lighting and slopes created a dangerous condition where invitees were directed to walk while failing to warn of the dangers.

8. That while Ms. Galloway was on the ground, other invitees were trampling her as they could not see her lying on the ground. Another invitee had to block others to protect her from being more extensively injured. When EMS arrived, the Auditorium still had not turned on the lights and the EMS workers had to use their cell phone lights to see Ms. Galloway.

9. That as a direct and proximate result of the Auditorium creating a dangerous path where invitees were directed to walk and failing to warn of those dangers, Ms. Galloway sustained the following injuries and damages:

A. Injuries to her body and most specifically to her lower extremities;

B. Injuries to her psyche;
C. The need for extensive medical care including surgery, hospital stays, therapy, medications and medical devices;
D. The need for ongoing medical care;

E. Extensive pain, mental anguish, stress and discomfort;

F. Money spent for medical care and treatment;

G. Loss of income;

H. Loss of enjoyment of life;

I. Future pain, mental anguish, stress and discomfort; and

J. Future medical treatment and future medical bills.

10. That the injuries and damages sustained by Ms. Galloway were directly and proximately caused by the Auditorium creating a dangerous condition and hiding it and they were negligent, careless, grossly negligent, willful, wanton and reckless in one or more of the following particulars:

A. In creating a dangerous condition of inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

B. In ignoring the existence of a dangerous condition regarding inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

C. In failing to warn of the dangerous condition of inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

D. In failing to correct an unreasonable and unsafe condition when the Auditorium knew or should have known it created a dangerous situation with inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

E. In violating the laws, statutes and ordinances of the City of Spartanburg and the State of South Carolina;

G. In failing to properly hire, train and supervise its employees; and

H. In such other acts and/or omissions constituting carelessness, recklessness and negligence as may be ascertained in discovery to be undertaken in accordance with the laws of the State of South Carolina.

11. That Ms. Galloway is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against the Auditorium for actual and punitive damages in an appropriate amount.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Star Dance Alliance, LLC d/b/a Nexstar, Inc.)

12. That the Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation set forth hereinabove as if repeated below verbatim.

13. Star Dance Alliance, LLC d/b/a Nexstar, Inc. (hereinafter "the Dance Co") is a Maryland Corporation which does business through Nexstar, a Virginia Corporation.

14. The Dance Co. entered a lease agreement with the Auditorium on March 21, 2017 with the Dance Co. as the lessee of the Auditorium. The lease was for the purpose of the Dance Co. hosting a dance competition for profit in Spartanburg County at the Auditorium.

15. The Plaintiffs were part of a group invited by the Dance Co. to attend the competition at the Auditorium with their child as a competitor.

16. That the injuries and damages sustained by Ms. Galloway were directly and proximately caused by the Dance Co. being negligent, careless, grossly negligent, willful, wanton and reckless in one or more of the following particulars:

A. In creating a dangerous condition of inadequate lighting;

B. In ignoring the existence of a dangerous condition regarding inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

C. In failing to warn of the dangerous condition of inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

D. In failing to correct an unreasonable and unsafe condition when the Dance Co. knew or should have known of the dangerous situation with inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

E. In violating the laws, statutes and ordinances of the City of Spartanburg and the State of South Carolina;

G. In failing to properly hire, train and supervise its employees; and

H. In such other acts and/or omissions constituting carelessness, recklessness and negligence as may be ascertained in discovery to be undertaken in accordance with the laws of the State of South Carolina.

17. That as a direct and proximate result of the Dance Co's negligence, Ms. Galloway sustained the following injuries and damages:

A. Injuries to her body and most specifically to her lower extremities;

B. Injuries to her psyche;

C. The need for extensive medical care including surgery, hospital stays, therapy, medications and medical devices;

D. The need for ongoing medical care;

E. Extensive pain, mental anguish, stress and discomfort;

F. Money spent for medical care and treatment;

G. Loss of income;

H. Loss of enjoyment of life;

I. Future pain, mental anguish, stress and discomfort; and

J. Future medical treatment and future medical bills.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Angie Ross d/b/a Stagehand Services-Spartanburg)

18. That the Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation set forth hereinabove as if repeated below verbatim.

19. That upon information and belief Angie Ross is a citizen and resident of Spartanburg County doing business in Spartanburg County as Stagehand Services - Spartanburg (hereinafter "Stagehand") out of her home located at 100 Boxelder Court, Campobello, South Carolina.

20. That Stagehand contracted with the other defendants to provide "Load In", "Load Out", "Show/Rehearsal Calls", "House Strip", "House Restore" and "Rigging Calls". Upon information and belief these duties included participation with lighting at the Auditorium as well as other matters dealing with safe attendance at the event.

21. The contract with Stagehand asserts that the persons they provide are employees of "SSS, Inc."; however, upon information and belief, there is no such entity as "SSS, Inc." associated with Angie Ross or Stagehand and no business by that name can be found which is involved in the type of services provided by Stagehand. The Plaintiffs hereby reserve the right to amend these pleadings to add SSS, Inc. should the discovery process reveal that there is such a company involved in this lawsuit.

22. That as a direct and proximate result of Stagehand creating a dangerous path where invitees were directed to walk and failing to warn of those dangers, Ms. Galloway sustained the following injuries and damages:

A. Injuries to her body and most specifically to her lower extremities;

B. Injuries to her psyche;
C. The need for extensive medical care including surgery, hospital stays, therapy, medications and medical devices;

D. The need for ongoing medical care;

E. Extensive pain, mental anguish, stress and discomfort;

F. Money spent for medical care and treatment;

G. Loss of income;

H. Loss of enjoyment of life;

I. Future pain, mental anguish, stress and discomfort; and

J. Future medical treatment and future medical bills.

23. That the injuries and damages sustained by Ms. Galloway were directly and proximately caused by Stagehand creating a dangerous condition and hiding it and they were negligent, careless, grossly negligent, willful, wanton and reckless in one or more of the following particulars:

A. In creating a dangerous condition of inadequate lighting;

B. In ignoring the existence of a dangerous condition regarding inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

C. In failing to warn of the dangerous condition of inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

D. In failing to correct an unreasonable and unsafe condition when Stagehand knew or should have known of the dangerous situation with inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

E. In violating the laws, statutes and ordinances of the City of Spartanburg and the State of South Carolina;

G. In failing to properly hire, train and supervise its employees; and

H. In such other acts and/or omissions constituting carelessness, recklessness and negligence as may be ascertained in discovery to be undertaken in accordance with the laws of the State of South Carolina.

24. That Ms. Galloway is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against the Stagehand for actual and punitive damages in an appropriate amount.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Event Partners, LLC a/k/a Event Partners, Inc.)

25. That the Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation set forth hereinabove as if repeated below verbatim.

26. Event Partners, LLC a/k/a Event Partners, Inc. (hereinafter "Event Partners") is a South Carolina Corporation which does business throughout South Carolina.

27. Event Partners entered into an agreement with the Auditorium on June 7, 2017 to provide services through June 30, 2018. The agreement provided that Event Partners would supply personnel to the Auditorium to assist with events at the Auditorium. Event Partners did provide personnel and services for the event at issue in this case.

28. One of the services the personnel provided by Event Partners to the Auditorium was ensuring the safe ingress and egress of the Auditorium of those attending the dance competition at issue.

29. That as a direct and proximate result of Event Partner's negligence, Ms. Galloway sustained the following injuries and damages:

30. That the injuries and damages sustained by Ms. Galloway were directly and proximately caused by Event Services creating a dangerous condition and hiding it and they were negligent, careless, grossly negligent, willful, wanton and reckless in one or more of the following particulars:

A. In creating a dangerous condition of inadequate lighting;

B. In ignoring the existence of a dangerous condition regarding inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

C. In failing to warn of the dangerous condition of inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

D. In failing to correct an unreasonable and unsafe condition when the Event Services knew or should have known of the dangerous situation with inadequate lighting and elevation changes;

E. In violating the laws, statutes and ordinances of the City of Spartanburg and the State of South Carolina;

G. In failing to properly hire, train and supervise its employees; and

H. In such other acts and/or omissions constituting carelessness, recklessness and negligence as may be ascertained in discovery to be undertaken in accordance with the laws of the State of South Carolina.

31. That Ms. Galloway is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against the Event Services for actual and punitive damages in an appropriate amount.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Loss of Consortium)

32. That the Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation set forth hereinabove as if repeated below verbatim.

33. That as a result of the injuries suffered by Ms. Galloway, her husband, Eric Galloway, was deprived of the society, companionship, consortium, and services of his wife for a period of time.

34. Accordingly, Plaintiff Eric Galloway has been damaged and believes that he is entitled to judgment against each of the defendants jointly and severally for compensatory and punitive damages in regard to his loss of consortium claim in such amount as determined appropriate by a jury at the trial of this case.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs prays for judgment against the Defendants jointly and severally for damages in amounts to be deemed appropriate by the Court at the trial of this case and for such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

THE BIG DAY IS ALMOST HERE!

Soon Santa will be racing the morning sun around the world. In our grid, we have room for nine words associated with Santa. The following hints should help:

- Santa goes up the chimney when he lays his finger next to his ...?
- Santa's other name.
- Santa would never go to his house.
- Santa's presents end up here.
- Santa's physical description.
- Santa's most important helper.
- Santa's disposition.
- Santa's associates.
- Santa's other last name.

There is a dark frame around one of the columns in our grid. If you correctly solve the puzzle, the letters in the frame, top to bottom, will spell out Santa's last stop on Christmas Day.

CHAIN REACTION! Take the seven letters printed below our diagram and place them in the circles so that eight four-letter words can be read, top to bottom, along the connecting lines. All the words will begin with the letter in the top circle.
