Spartanburg Community College honored 2019 Economic Visionaries at the Spartanburg Marriott on March 21st.

Spartanburg Community College awards

2019 Economic Visionaries

Four exceptional Upstate companies were named 2019 Economic Visionaries by Spartanburg Community College at the annual Economic Visionaries event held at the Spartanburg Marriott on Thursday evening, March 21. Businesses honored for transforming the Upstate economy were AWL Automation LLC, Lockhart Power Company, Polydeck Screening Corporation and Duke Energy. The keynote speaker for the evening was Mark Bellissimo, managing partner, Tryon Equestrian Partners. Amy Wood, anchor News Channel 7/WSPA TV, was the event emcee.

"Tonight we honor four Economic Visionaries - companies and leaders who embraces the future with imagination, wisdom and energy to make an enterprising and lasting impact on our community resources. Just look anywhere in the Upstate and you will see phenomenal and unprecedented growth," said Henry C. Giles, Jr. "Thanks to new companies moving to the area, companies increasing their workforce and companies expanding operations, our communities and our economy are thriving and poised for a strong and prosperous future. On behalf of the administration, faculty, staff, students and graduates of Spartan-burg Community College, I congratulate our winners and thank them for a job well done."

Hosted by the SCC Foundation, Economic Visionaries brings many components to the spotlight- four companies selected from a large number of nominations, a visible keynote speaker, 66 supportive sponsors- all to celebrate the positive impact Spartanburg Community College provides across the three county service area and the significant impact economic development brings to South Carolina.

John Montgomery, vice president of Colliers International introduced Mr. Bellissimo and shared accolades for SCC. "On behalf of our community, I'd like to thank everyone associated with Spartanburg Community College for what they have offered us this evening and also for the outstanding work they have done to make this community strong. Without SCC, I don't think many of the amazing success we have enjoyed, including BMW coming here, would have ever happened," said Montgomery.

In remarks to event attendees, Bellissimo shared, "Visions are a dime a dozen and they don't come with majority support. The true challenge is actually turning vision into reality. I am guided by five principles:

- 1- dream big, but define vic-
- 2- maintain balance and per-
- 3- lift up the people around
- 4- be resilient, agile and patient; and
- 5- manage the critics as change is difficult for many." Following Bellissimo's remarks, Pres. Giles and Amy Wood presented awards to the four 2019 Economic Vision-

AWL Automation LLC "With the successful launch of our newest location, AWL Automation LLC demonstrates the realization of our reach as a truly global company. Spartanburg's continual development as a center of economic growth and stability provides a unique opportunity to showcase our decades of industry experience in a way that benefits everyone around us," states Per Blohm, AWL managing director. "We are excited- as an organization and as a family- to share our vision of employee development, sustainability, innovation, and economic involvement with our new community. With tonight's recognition, we will strive to exemplify how our mission of ensuring global productivity begins and ends locally."

Lockhart Power

"I am humbled and honored that we have been named a 2019 Economic Visionary," said Bryan Stone, president of Lockhart Power. For us, our purpose of serving the public goes beyond donating and investing tens of millions of dollars in renewable energy and infrastructure. We invest our time, expertise and money in dozens of community and educational initiatives as well as charitable endeavors which strengthen and sustain our communities. All of our employees are part of these efforts in various ways, and this recognition is greatly appreciated by all of us at Lockhart Power!"

Polydeck Screening Cor-

"Being selected as an Economic Visionary is a great honor, not just for our leadership, but for the entire Polydeck family who works day in and day out to creatively, sustainably and effectively achieve our goals," said Peter Freissle, president and CEO, Polydeck Screening Corporation. "Thank you to the Spartanburg Community College Foundation for your efforts to highlight the importance of collaboration, excellence and innovation in business; providing companies the opportunity to use their success and resources to support our community. We are truly thankful."

Duke Energy in South Carolina

"It's a great honor indeed to be recognized as an Economic Visionary," said Kodwo Ghartey-Tagoe, state president for Duke Energy in South Carolina. "Duke Energy from its start here in South Carolina in 1904 - is at its core an economic development company. For more than a century, we have worked in partnership with state and local authorities to attract business investment and jobs to this state, and those efforts successfully continue today."

During the event, Spar-tanburg Community College Foundation announced an anonymous donation of $100,000 over five years to establish the "Dr. Pamela Hagan Professional Development fund for SCC Faculty." The purpose of this fund is to provide resources to cover travel and conference expenses focused on professional development. The success of this event generates funds for SCC scholarships, faculty development, book funds and emergency requests through the SCC Foundation.

SCC and the SCC Foundation are proud to partner with a local non-profit, Our Carolina Foothills, to bring the equestrian theme to the Marriott in honor of the Economic Visionaries event's keynote speaker, Mark Bellissimo and the Tryon International Equestrian Center, through the ART OF THE HORSE project. The project highlights the foothills equestrian and arts heritage and promotes community unity. For more information, visit the organization's website www.ourcarolinafoothills. com/art-of-the-horse

the American Counseling Association

Many parents are, unfortunately, not aware of how common the problem of teen suicide is. In America, it's estimated there is an average of more than 3,000 suicide attempts every day by young people in grades 9 to 12. Suicide is the second leading cause of death among young people ages 10 to 24, killing more teens and young adults than cancer, heart disease, AIDS, birth defects, stroke, pneumonia, influenza and chronic lung disease com-

Studies have found that four out of five teens who attempt suicide have given clear warning signs, yet too often such signs are ignored or simply not noticed or recognized.

Life today can seem overwhelming for many adolescents. Young people are confronted with physical and hormonal changes, school grade anxieties, being socially accepted and making life decisions about college or employment choices. Other factors, such as a parental divorce, a seriously ill relative or even moving to a new home can bring added levels of stress and anxiety. Being bullied, whether in person or online, will also contribute to the negative feelings a teen may be experiencing.

Teens affected by such factors are often suffering from depression and suicide may simply seem the easiest way to escape the blackness they are feeling. Depression is a mental health issue that doesn't cure itself, but it does have a number of signs that can help a parent spot a teen in trouble.

Teens suffering from depression will often exhibit changes in eating and sleeping habits. They often are withdrawn, losing interest in friends and family, and no longer participating in favorite activities. Their school work may be suffering, they may have difficulty concentrating, and may not pay much attention to their personal hygiene and appearance.

In some cases the teen may verbalize feelings of wanting to die or simply outright threaten suicide. The warnings given may be more subtle, like saying "I won't be a problem much longer." Any such references to death or suicide are clear cries for help and shouldn't be ignored.

Depression, whether in a teen or adult, is a mental health problem that can be treated. Any signs that a teen may be considering suicide should call for immediate action. Talk to your family physician or a professional counselor. There's also information and help from the National Suicide Prevention hotline at 1-800-273-8255. Acting early can help save a young life.

3M investing $60 million in Greenville County facility during the next five years

Greenville - Greenville County will benefit from 3M's planned capital investment over the next five years to increase its manufacturing capacity and enhance its infrastructure at its operations in Greenville.

The investment and expansion were facilitated by discretionary incentives approved by the Greenville County Council to encourage 3M to continue to grow and invest in the community, where it has been a model corporate citizen for more than four decades.

"We're always proud to celebrate a capital investment in South Carolina, but it's especially exciting when it's one of our existing firms, like Company, that has decided to expand here. I look forward to watching this innovative business continue to have success here in South Carolina and beyond," stated South Carolina Gov. Henry McMaster.

"World-class businesses like 3M Company continue to thrive in our state, providing further proof that our pro-business climate is encouraging industry to succeed. Congratulations to 3M Company, Greenville County and the entire Upstate community on today's announcement," stated South Caro-Secretary Commerce Bobby Hitt.

Greenville County Council Chairman and Greenville Area Development Corporation Director H.G. "Butch" Kirven Jr. added, "County Council is extremely pleased with 3M Company's decision to expand its operations in Greenville County. As a large, local employer, 3M Company provides good career opportunities for people in our area. This expansion also acknowledges the vital role of the excellent vocational and technical education programs available through Greenville Technical College and the public schools. 3M Company is a leader among global advanced manufacturers and enjoys many benefits of its strategic location here."

"With its diverse array of innovative and technology-driven products and a history of success among global advanced manufacturers, 3M could place this investment and these new positions anywhere, so we're delighted that they have selected Greenville's South Carolina Technology & Aviation Center. The company is a prized member of our business community, and a tremendous asset to our operations here," added Jody Bryson, President & CEO, SCTAC.

3M's manufacturing facility at 1400 Perimeter Road in Greenville currently employs 500 people and has been a member of the Upstate business and manufacturing community for 45 years. 3M Greenville manufactures and distributes film, industrial adhesives and other materials and products used in electronics, packaging, health care and the automotive industry. employees are actively involved in the community, having contributed 1,300 volunteer hours in

Furman among top colleges for producing Peace Corps volunteers

The Peace Corps announced on March 20th that Furman University is among the agency's top volunteer-producing colleges and universities in 2019.

Furman is ranked No. 15 among "small-size" schools with undergraduate enrollments under 5,000. There are currently 10 Furman alumni volunteering in countries around the world.

This is the first year that Furman has ranked among the top 20 small-size schools. Since the Peace Corps' founding in 1961, more than 130 Furman graduates have served abroad as volunteers

The Peace Corps, which sends Americans abroad to work with communities and create lasting change, also recognized the top volunteer-producing colleges and universities in the large (more than 15,000 undergraduates) and medium (5,000 -15,000 undergraduate) categories.

"We have seen time and again that the colleges and universities that produce the most Peace Corps volunteers focus on cultivating global citizens in addition to promoting scholarship," said Peace Corps Director Jody Olsen. "I am proud that so many graduates of these esteemed institutions leverage their educations to make the world a better place. They bring critical skills to communities around the world and gain hands-on, lifechanging experience along the way.

In announcing Furman's ranking, the Peace Corps

William Peace Corps volunteer," cited alums Bacharach '15, who is serving as a health volunteer in Guinea, and Kristina Benson food security volunteer in Nepal.

"Our students develop a passion for serving others during their time on campus, and many of them choose to continue on that path after graduation," said Furman President "The Elizabeth Davis. Peace Corps does important work throughout the world, and we're grateful for the efforts of Peace Corps volunteers everywhere."

Bacharach, a member of the football team at Furman, credits his head coach, professors and the campus environment in preparing him for Peace Corps service. "Coach (Bruce) Fowler taught me to take personal accountability and responsibility while existing within a larger group structure with a shared goal — not unlike Peace Corps service. Your home is your castle: How to protect it through the years (StatePoint) For many people, owning a home is the American dream, and the single biggest financial investment they will ever make. With the stakes so high, in addition to picking out the perfect property, it's critical to have the right insurance.

While homeowners may start out with the right amount when they first purchase their home, over time, their policy can become outdated. Why? One big reason is inflation.

"Labor and building material costs go up over time, which means that if your home were destroyed by a fire or natural disaster, for example, and you had to rebuild it in today's dollars, it would very likely cost much more," said Bob Buckel, vice president and product manager, Erie Insurance. "That's why we recommend that all homeowners get 'guaranteed replacement cost' coverage."

In addition to making sure your insurance keeps up with inflation, experts also recommend homeowners reach out to their insurance agent when:

• You remodel: 2019 is expected to be a popular year for remodeling, according to the Leading Indicator of Remodeling Activity. Whether it's putting on an addition or finishing the basement, be sure the extra square footage and finishes are listed on your policy. Why? If something were to happen (think: fire, water damage, etc.), you'll want your insurance policy to provide enough funds for everything to be repaired or replaced.

• You make changes to outdoor space: The same is true with any remodeling to your outdoor space. The addition of an in-ground pool or fence can add value to your home. There are also liability concerns associated with certain equipment, such as a swimming or trampoline. pool Unfortunately, at least 148 children drowned in swimming pools last summer and many more were injured, according to the Consumer Product Safety Commission. You'll want to make sure you're properly covered in the event of an accident.

· You install a security system: You may qualify for a discount on your insurance if you've recently installed a security system. One study by the Electronic Security Association (ESA) looked at the 10 largest insurance companies and found many offer worthwhile premium discounts.

- You start a home-based business: Whether you have a side hustle or draw a full-time income from a home-based business, you may not have the right coverage in place. For example, if you're selling LuLaRoe clothing and there's a fire, your merchandise might not be covered since typical policies don't always cover homebased businesses. You'll most likely need an incidental business endorsement. Coverage from Erie Insurance could cost about $30 to $70 per year.
- You acquire valuables: Homeowners insurance covers your belongings, but generally only up to a certain dollar amount per item. So, if you acquire an expensive item, such as an engagement ring, a fur or a valuable artwork, you should talk to your insurance agent about adding special coverage. You may also need to provide a receipt or appraisal.

Homeowners urged to prevent home fires by routinely cleaning dryer vent

Charlotte, N.C. – AAA Carolinas Insurance is reminding all residents to routinely clean out their dryer vents to prevent build-up that can lead to danger.

One of the most common reasons for a house fire stems from the lint buildup in a drver. U.S. fire departments respond to an estimated 15,970 home fires involving clothes dryers or washing machines each year, resulting in about 13 deaths, according to the National Fire Protection Association. 92% of those fires were caused specifically by dryers. And the leading factor contributing to the ignition of the fire was failure to clean the vent (about one third of all dryer fires).

"Most home owners know to regularly clean out the lint catcher inside their dryer, but few go the extra mile to clean out the full tubed vent that connects the dryer to the outside of the home, and that is where the problem occurs," said Jim McCafferty, president of AAA Carolinas Insurance.

The lint trap inside a dryer unfortunately does not capture all of the lint produced. As the air exits the dryer through the vent hose that leads to the outside of the home, lint particles are carried along with it. Over time, this builds up in the vent and can lead to an obstruction. When this build-up is combined with the high temperatures of a dryer, deadly consequences can ensue.

AAA Carolinas recommends cleaning out the full tubular vent at least twice a year. For those that use a dryer daily, the recommendation increases to three to four times a year.

"There are some warning signs associated with a potential lint build-up," added McCafferty. "If you find your dryer isn't drying your clothes as well, maybe it takes multiple cycles to get them fully dry, or if your dryer is extremely hot to the touch, you should immediately check your vent."

The National Fire Protection Association has provided this flyer with dryer safety tips, includ-

Complaint Plaintiff by and through his undersigned counsel of record, will show unto this Honorable Court the following:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS 1. Plaintiffs Robert Anthony

Rick and Megan L. Rick are citizens and residents of Spartanburg County, South Caro-

2. Defendants Kevin Scott Fletcher and Lorena Scott Fletcher are, upon information and belief, citizens and residents of Spartanburg County, South Carolina.

3. The collision that gives rise to this action occurred in Greenville County, South Carolina.

4. This Court has jurisdiction of the parties and subject matter of this action and venue is proper.

5. On or about March 15, 2018 at approximately 6:30 a.m., Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick was driving his 2008 Chevrolet Impala south on Interstate 85 near the City of Greer, County of Greenville, State of South Carolina.

6. At that same time, Defendant Kevin Scott Fletcher was driving a 1991 Volvo, owned by Tammy Lorena Fletcher, south on Interstate 85, directly behind Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick, near the City of Greer, County of Greenville, State of South Carolina.

7. Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick slowed to a stop because of congested traffic, but Defendant Kevin Fletcher, who was driving too fast for the conditions then and there existing, failed to stop, and collided with plaintiff's vehicle.

8. As a direct and proximate result of this collision, Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick suffered injuries and damages as set forth hereinbelow.

PLAINTIFF'S FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION AS TO DEFENDANT KEVIN SCOTT FLETCHER (NEGLIGENCE)

9. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation set forth hereinabove as if repeated

10. Defendant Kevin Scott Fletcher was negligent, grossly negligent and reckless in the following particulars, to

(a) In failing to maintain a proper lookout;

(b) In failing to stop, swerve, slow down, or take other evasive action to avoid the collision; (c) In failing to keep his vehicle under safe and proper control; (d) In failing to act as a reasonable and prudent person would have acted under the circumstances then and there existing; and, (e) In violating the statutes of the State of South Carolina with regard to the safe and proper operation of a motor 11. As a direct and proximate result of the aforementioned acts of negligence, gross negligence and recklessness by Defendant Kevin Scott Fletcher, Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick suffered injuries to his person that required expensive and extensive medical care and treatment.

12. As a further direct and proximate result of the aforementioned acts and/or omissions by Defendant Kevin Scott Fletcher, Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick endured physical pain and suffering for a period of time.

PLAINTIFF'S SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION AS TO DEFENDANT TAMMY LORENA FLETCHER

(NEGLIGENT ENTRUSTMENT)

13. The foregoing allegations contained in this Complaint are incorporated by reference herein as fully as if restated

14. Defendant Tammy Lorena Fletcher was negligent in entrusting the use of her automobile to Defendant Kevin Scott Fletcher when Defendant Tammy Lorena Fletcher knew or should have known that Defendant Kevin Scott Fletcher was not a competent and qualified driver.

15. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant Tammy Lorena Fletcher's negligent entrustment of said automobile, Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick suffered injuries and damages as set forth herein-

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION (LOSS OF CONSORTIUM)

16. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation set forth hereinabove as if repeated verbatim.

17. As a result of injuries to Plaintiff Robert Anthony Rick, Plaintiff Megan L. Rick was deprived of society, companionship, consortium, and services of her husband, Robert Anthony Rick.

18. Accordingly, Plaintiff Megan L. Rick has been damaged and believes that she is entitled to judgment against Defendants for compensatory damages in regard to her loss of consortium claim in such an amount to be determined appropriate by the jury at the trial of this case.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendants for actual and punitive damages in amounts to be determined appropriate by the Court at the trial of this case, for the costs of this action, and for such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
