To Kill A Mockingbird | Spartanburg Little Theatre March 10, 11 at 8:00 pm | March 11, 12 at 3:00 pm

Adapted from the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, To Kill a Mockingbird opens in a sleepy Alabama town in the midst of the Great Depression, where Scout and her brother, Jem, live with their widowed father, Atticus Finch. When a young black man is accused of a terrible crime, the idyllic facade of the seemingly peaceful town begins to crack. Driven by an unshakeable moral conviction, local lawyer Atticus defends the man in a trial that sends violent waves through the community. Timeless and lingering, this hard-hitting work explores prejudice, compassion and the courage to do what is right, even when it comes at great cost.

Former USC Upstate baseball assistant coach named to Milwaukee Brewers' Triple-A coaching staff

With Major League Baseball Spring Training now underway, MLB organizations have begun finalizing their Minor League coaching staffs with a former USC Upstate baseball assistant coach finding himself named to the Nashville Sounds' (Milwaukee Brewers Triple-A affiliate) coaching staff as Patrick McGuff was named the team's bullpen coach.

McGuff, who served as the volunteer assistant on head coach Mike McGuire's staff during the 2020 and 2021 seasons and the fall of 2021, makes the move to Triple-A after serving as a Development Coach for the Brewer's Single-A affiliate Wisconsin Timber Rattlers in 2022.

In his two seasons as a member of the Upstate coaching staff, McGuff was instrumental in developing the Spartan pitching staff into one of the top pitching staffs in the Big South Conference. Over his two seasons, the Upstate pitching staff posted a 3.66 earned run average and 9.1 strikeouts per nine innings while holding opponents to a .242 batting average.

Greenville - The University of South Carolina Upstate's Chancellor, Bennie L. Harris, Ph.D., received the Xanthene S. Norris Education Award at the Urban League of the Upstate Inc.'s 2023 Whitney M. Young, Jr. awards gala held Thursday, February 23, at the Greenville Convention Center. The award is named for the long-serving Greenville County Councilwoman Xanthene Norris.

"At USC Upstate, we set the stage for students and faculty of color to reach their greatest heights," Harris said. "We serve as a place for educational engagement and aspire to create a culture of civil discourse. This award is a significant recognition of the work we do to inspire and develop people who will change the world."

According to the organization's website, the National Urban League was founded in 1910 and works with the community, corporate partners, and policymakers at the local and state levels to "enable and empower African Americans and others in underserved communities to achieve their highest human potential and secure economic self-reliance, parity, power and civil rights."

Urban League of the Upstate said on its website that it grew out of a grass-roots effort in 1970 spear-headed by a group of Greenville citizens who wanted to "create a community-based organization committed to the principle of equal opportunity for all citizens in housing, education, employment, and economic development without regard to race or socioeconomic status."

"The ULUS annual gala is designed to recognize individuals and companies supporting the work of the Urban League," the organization said in a statement. "Together with our partners, we celebrate our achievements in educating and empowering Black and underserved individuals throughout the region."

Spartanburg Community College keeps free tuition rolling through Fall 2024

Recently, Spartanburg Community College announced the "Live to Chase Initiative," a re-imagined design to deliver free tuition for all the College's more than 70 different programs of study through the Fall of 2024.

The initiative will focus on promoting persistence and the willingness to chase by requiring recipients to be enrolled in a program that awards either a certificate or degree and maintain at least a 2.2 GPA. Students will have to either live or work full-time in South Carolina, complete a FAFSA, and take a minimum of six credit hours.

"Over the past two years Spartanburg Community College has redefined the definition of higher education opportunity for thousands of individuals that live to chase their dreams, and this momentum in talent development to meet workforce demands has solidified a strong foundation for future economic growth and prosperity," SCC President, Dr. Michael Mikota, said.

"During this 60th year in the history of the College, all the communities we serve bask in the shining pride that 6,300 Chasers are showcasing their talents that may not have been realized without this opportunity. With this new 'Live to Chase Initiative,' we strive to recognize those students that commit to the chase and realize their full potential," Dr. Mikota continued.

In May 2021, SCC announced tuition would be free for all programs, including general education, transfer, and workforce development. As a result, the College has seen a 51.5% increase in enrollment and currently has the highest enrollment in its 60 years of operation. Notably, SCC's non-traditional population (defined as students aged 24 and older) has seen the largest share of growth, with an enrollment increase of over 63% since Fall of

The new approach is made possible by internal operational improvements to better utilize available resources in a way that provides a significantly larger return on investment to the communities the College serves and the state of South Carolina as a whole.

Free tuition is available for all the 70+ programs of study offered at SCC to anyone who lives or works fulltime in South Carolina, has a desire to begin or continue their education, enrolls in a minimum of six credit hours in a program that awards either a certificate or degree, and maintains a 2.20 GPA.

For more information, and to apply to SCC, visit www.sccgoesfree.com.

SCC offers more than 70 academic program offerings including associate degrees, diplomas and certificates, plus University Transfer opportunities to four-year colleges and universities. SCC provides flexible class scheduling including day, evening, weekend classes with multiple start dates and more than 100 online classes through SCCOnline. Offering the lowest tuition in the region, convenient locations, and regional/ national accreditations, SCC offers educational opportunities leading to high-growth, high-demand jobs. Spartanburg receives grant funding from PalmettoPride

Columbia - Palmetto-Pride recently announced recipients for three of its competitive grant programs. Annually, PalmettoPride accepts applications for the Litter Crew Grant, the Litter Enforcement Grant, and the Keep South Carolina Beautiful Grant programs.

"Our grant programs provide resources that directly impact our communities at the local level," said Sarah Lyles, Executive Director of PalmettoPride. "It is exciting to see the growth of litter prevention programs across the state, particularly in our rural counties."

PalmettoPride awarded $333,570 for litter removal through the Litter Crew Grant. The Litter Enforcement Grant awarded $77,724 to law enforcement agencies across the state to assist in the enforcement of state and local litter laws. The Keep SC Beautiful Grant provided $211,646 to support the efforts of 23 Keep South Carolina Beautiful affiliates.

Maureen Mulligan, Environmentalist Training Coordinator at GCESD, stated, "It is my hope that through our continued efforts at litter removal, combined with increasing our education and outreach, we can continue to see a significant improvement in litter conditions on our roadsides. The PalmettoPride Litter Crew Grant plays a significant part in allowing us to achieve our litter reduction goals."

GCESD utilized grant funding to assist with 17 community clean ups with the help of over 300 volunteers. The role of volunteers in litter prevention cannot be overstated in PalmettoPride's mission. While litter prevention is best, routine pickup is necessary to reduce litter on roadways and to foster pride in communities. Through a combination of routine maintenance and volunteer events, communities stride towards a litter-free South Carolina.

* Launch of the all-new BMW XM, the first ever high-performance car with an electrified drive system from BMW M.

* Production of 69,200 plug-in hybrid electric vehicles, making up 16.6% of the plant's total volume (BMW X3 xDrive30e, BMW X5 xDrive45e, and BMW XM).

* Plant Spartanburg X models made up slightly more than 60 percent of all BMW vehicles sold in the U.S. last year.

In October, BMW Group Chairman of the Board of Management, Oliver Zipse, announced a $1.7 billion investment, including $1 billion to prepare the plant for the production of fully-electric vehicles and $700 million to build a high-voltage battery assembly facility Woodruff, SC. By 2030, the BMW Group will build at least six fully-electric models in the United States.

Beginning in April, the plant will start production of the 2024 BMW X5 and BMW X6. These updated models include new design details, expanded standard equipment, and advancecant highlight was the ments in digital technolo-

Government officials applauded BMW's export success.

"For over three decades, BMW's commitment to South Carolina continues to demonstrate the power of partnership," said South Carolina Governor Henry McMaster. "With recordsetting exports and its latest electromobility investment at Plant Spartanburg, BMW not only shows the world that South Carolina paves the way to automotive success – but that our state is home to the industry's future."

"BMW's continued success in South Carolina is a direct result of the collaboration, commitment, and incredible workforce necessary to build one of the world's best modern vehicles," said South Carolina Secretary of Commerce Harry M. Lightsey III. "To consistently remain a global leader in the export sales of completed passenger vehicles and accelerate the future of vehicle electrification from our borders underscores the strength and dependability of South Carolina's automotive industry. We value our partnership with BMW, and the mutual growth their continued investment has afforded both Plant Spartanburg and the state of South Carolina." "Congratulations BMW Manufacturing on being named the largest U.S. automotive exporter by value for the ninth consecutive year," said SC Ports President and CEO Barbara Melvin. "For nearly 30 years, SC Ports has had a strong partnership with BMW Manufacturing. BMW exports 60 percent of its South Carolinamade vehicles to more than 120 countries through the Port of Charleston. We are proud to support the shipping needs of this world-class automotive company, and we look forward to continued success for BMW."

Since 1992, the BMW Group has invested nearly $12.4 billion in its South Carolina operations. BMW Manufacturing is the largest BMW Group plant in the world, producing more than 1,500 vehicles each day. The plant is an important part of BMW's global production network and plays a critical role in meeting the high demand for BMW Sports Activity Vehicles and Coupes in the U.S. and around the world. Nearly 60 percent of its vehicles are shipped to about 120 global markets, making BMW the largest automotive exporter by value in the United States for nine consecutive years. The model portfolio includes six top-selling BMW X models, five Motorsport X models, and three plug-in hybrid electric vehicle X models. The factory has an annual production capacity of up to 450,000 vehicles and employs more than 11,000 people.
