Spartanburg City Council approves 12-month extension for electric scooter rentals

At their meeting on Monday, Spartanbug City Council approved a 12-month extension of a franchise agreement allowing electric scooter operator Blue Duck to continue providing scooter rentals in Downtown Spartanburg and surrounding neighborhoods. Council member Erica Brown voted against the motion. Blue Duck has provided around 100 electric scooters for users to rent since May of last year.

Staff provided an update to Council at their October 26 meeting on the scooter rental program that showed over 14,300 riders have used the scooters between May and September, with a peak of 4,794 in July. Those numbers are better than what Blue Duck initially anticipated when launching in Spartanburg according to company representatives

The City has worked closely with Blue Duck throughout the pilot program ensure rider and pedestrian safety while providing a new micromobility option for residents and visitors, restricting riders from the Morgan Square area and E Main Street between Liberty St. and Church St due to higher number of pedestrians in those areas. The scooters are also restricted from city trails. The scooters utilize GPS technology, and will not function outside their service area or within areas that have been restricted.

Under terms of the agreement Blue Duck has with the City, scooter riders must use bike lanes when available and may only use streets with a speed limit of 25 MPH or less. Additionally, the scooters may not be ridden on sidewalks, on trails such as the Mary Black Foundation Rail Trail, or in city parks. Riders will also not be allowed to park scooters on sidewalks within 8 feet of a building entrance or within 4 feet of benches and crosswalks.

Wofford College Bookstore will have a new location, flexible space in 2022

The Wofford College Bookstore will relocate to a new development at 578 N. Church St. The new space allows the college to reimagine how the bookstore has traditionally been viewed while having the capacity and flexibility to serve as an event venue for the college and community organizations.

The college participated in a groundbreaking ceremony Wednesday, Nov. 10, for The Hub, a 16,699-square-foot shopping center that will be located at 578 N. Church St. The Hub is expected to be complete by summer 2022.

The college's bookstore will relocate from 501 N. Church St. to The Hub. The bookstore will have 5,758 square-feet of flexible space for the display and sale of merchandise and books with the capacity to serve as the site of college and community events. The college also will share outdoor space for gatherings with others in the plaza.

Moe's Original BBQ will occupy a 3,271 square-foot space in the plaza. More restaurants, retail and commercial users are being recruited for the shopping center.

The Hub will be on the site of the former Sunshine Inn. Fletcher Development is leading the project. Harper General Contractors is the contractor; SeamonWhiteside is the civil engineering firm, McMillan Pazdan Smith is the architecture firm, and the redevelopment of the site was initiated by the Northside Development Group, a nonprofit focused on managing and redeveloping Spartanburg's Northside community in partnership with residents.

Support local artists on Giving Tuesday

This Giving Tuesday, November 30, the Chapman Cultural Center is asking for your help to support even more artists through the Community Grants Program. When you choose to support the Chapman Cultural Center's Community Grants Program on Giving Tuesday, you're supporting performing artists, visual artists, literary artists, craft & folk artists, and media artists & more!

With your support, Spartanburg County artists will be able to use the Community Grants for specific creative projects and enrich their art careers. Contact Chapman Cultural Center for more information.

SCC reports record enrollment, unveils first mascot in college history

Recently, leadership of Spartanburg Community College, alongside representatives of strategic partners OneSpartanburg, Inc. and Spartanburg Academic Movement, gathered on the SCC Giles Campus in Spartanburg to provide an update to the Free Tuition Initiative and host a celebration to reveal the college's very first mascot.

SCC is proud to announce a 32 percent overall increase in enrollment versus 2019, marking the highest enrollment in college history with a total of 6,097 students enrolled in classes. Furthermore, a 66 percent increase among students aged 24 and older speaks volumes towards the success of the initiative to reengage students with among the adult popula-

Enrollment from Spartanburg, Cherokee, and Union Counties increased 24, 37 and 35 percent, respectively.

"When we announced this initiative in May, we envisioned a unique opportunity to give back to the community and reengage those who may have seen their education and career advancement opportunities be placed on hold. While we anticipated a positive response, we have truly been amazed by the results," said Dr. Michael Mikota, president of SCC. "We have record enrollment at a time when other colleges and universities are seeing anemic enrollment numbers, but more importantly we have seen significant increases in the number of adults who are now taking this opportunity to chase their dreams of educational and personal achievement. We eliminated barriers to success and their lives will be forever changed because

One stated goal when the free tuition initiative was launched was to reengage students who at some point paused their pursuits in higher education by eliminating financial barriers and opening access, specifically for adults. The unprecedented 66 percent increase among those aged 24 and older is proof-positive of the success of this initiative and overwhelmingly exceeds expectations.

strong "talent pipeline" consisting of educational opportunities from early childhood programs all the way to workforce development services is a crucial factor in connecting individuals in Spartanburg county to the ever-growing economic opportunities that present themselves locally. Furthermore, one of the foremost goals for strategic partners in the area is for 40 percent of the residents of Spartanburg county aged 25 or older to have earned an associate degree or higher by 2030. As shown by the enrollment numbers. SCC's free tuition program is significontributing cantly towards the completion of this goal, strengthening the county's talent pipeline and improving educational outcomes overall.

"During unprecedented Spartanburg times. Community College stepped up to meet the needs of our community. its employers and most importantly - its students," said Allen Smith, president and CEO of OneSpartanburg, Inc. "These students are preparing to fill technical and knowledge-based iobs, and upon completion. will become critical players in Spartanburg's talent pool, enabling our existing industries to continue sucoperations. cessful Simultaneously, increased educational attainment levels make Spartanburg more attractive as a destination for employers offering new and diversified job opportunities. As our people succeed, so does our community." Significant increases were also realized amongst the college's minority population, with a 55 percent increase in African American enrollment, a 44 percent increase Hispanic enrollment, a 10 percent increase in Asian enrollment and a 37 percent increase amongst all other races. These increases are significant, as SCC is dedicated to closing the gap on degree attainment among minority communi-

"These enrollment numbers are significant, particularly for our adult population. Let us not forget that these data points represent real people who are seeing the value furthering their education for a number of reasons," said Dr. Russell Booker, executive director of Spartanburg Academic Movement. "It is clear that when financial barriers are removed, opportunities abound. SAM is committed to supporting SCC and its students as we work to ensure their success moving forward."

The rapid growth in SCC's enrollment as part of this free tuition initiative embodies the fact that the SCC family is made up of a student population that dreams of a brighter future, chases down their goals and lives out their dreams.

To cement this mentality of "Dream It, Chase It, Live It," SCC is proud to announce that SCC students, faculty, staff and alumni will now be officially known as the Spartanburg Community College Chasers, with Spartanburg's own Chaser the Border Collie serving as the first mascot in college history.

SCC offers more than 70 academic program offerings including associate degrees, diplomas and certificates, plus University Transfer opportunities to four-year colleges and universities. SCC provides flexible class scheduling including day, evening, weekend classes with multiple start dates and more than 100 online classes through SCCOnline. Offering the lowest tuition in the region, convenient locations, and regional/ national accreditations, SCC offers educational opportunities leading to high-growth, high-demand jobs. The SCC Corporate & Community Education Division provides job and career enhancement, workforce development and personal enrichment courses and training programs. Suffolk Pig Bottle

Figural bottles were often used to package medicines as well as alcoholic beverages in the 19th and early 20th centuries. A cabin-shaped bottle with the embossed name "E.G. Booz Whiskey" led customers to use the word booze for drink, a term still in use. But how did a pig-shaped bottle become one of the most popular bottles to encourage buyers of medicine?

There are early 1800s pig-shaped bottles made of both glass and ceramics. The tail is the spout, and the bottle was displayed on its four short legs. Suffolk Bitters, a medicine with a high percentage of alcohol, used the bottle about 1870. If you drank a lot, it made you happier and pain-free like any alcoholic beverage. Bitters were considered a medicinal drink, not alcohol.

The original amber Suffolk pig bottle had its name in raised letters on one side with "Philbrook & Tucker, Boston" on the other. There have been reproductions made in other colors and similar pigs with other names. At a Glass Works Auction online there were 14 bids before the new owner paid $1,170.

But why pigs for a product that doesn't contain any parts of a pig? It is probably to encourage sales because there was a belief in the 1870-1890s that pigs bring prosperity and the drink in a pig bottle would bring wealth.

Q: My mother says her bracelet is made of bakea-lite. What is that?

A: Bakelite is a plastic developed in the early 1900s. It was used for jewelry by the 1930s by major designers. The art deco jewelry became very popular. Bakelite was needed for the war in the 1940s, so the jewelry wasn't made for about five years. About 1997, the deco jewelry was rediscovered by collectors, and books were published with information and color pictures that made prices skyrocket. Bracelets with inset dots were selling for $300 to $1,000. Small pins were $75 to $300, and carved bracelets were $500.

There is a good supply of plastic jewelry now that those who bought in the 1990s are older and "decluttering." A recent Morphy's auction sold about 600 pieces for a total of $43,000 (yes, I counted the pieces), with an average price of $70.

TIP: The best way to dust books is with a vacuum cleaner brush attachment, while running the vacuum.

Thanksgiving travel predicted to rebound to near pre-pandemic levels

Charlotte, N.C. - AAA forecasts a strong rebound in holiday travelers this Thanksgiving. The Auto Club Group predicts 53.4 million Americans will travel for the Thanksgiving holiday, up 13% from 2020. This brings travel volumes within 5% of prepandemic levels for the 2019 holiday.

The gap is closing even faster in South Carolina, as total travel figures are only 2% below pre-pandemic levels. AAA predicts nearly 753,000 South Carolinians will travel for Thanksgiving, a 13% rebound from the total number of travelers during the 2020 holi-

"It's beginning to look more like a normal holiday travel season, compared to what we saw last year," said Debbie Haas, Vice President of Travel for AAA - The Auto Club Group. "Now that U.S. borders are open, vaccinations are readily available, and new health and safety guidelines are in place, travel is once again high on the list for Americans who are ready to reunite with their loved ones for the holidays."

Busier Roads and Airports

With 6.4 million more Americans traveling this Thanksgiving (98,000 more South Carolinians), people should prepare for the roads and airports to be noticeably more crowded than last year's holiday. AAA predicts road travel to increase 8%. Yet the most notable improvement this year's holiday is domestic air travel, which has almost completely recovered from its dramatic drop-off during the pandemic and is up 80% from last year.

"The re-opening of the U.S. borders to international travelers means airports will be even busier than we've recently seen, so travelers must plan for longer lines and extra time for TSA checks," Haas continued. "With flight delays and cancellations becoming a problem recently, air travelers are encouraged to consider travel insurance. If your flight is cancelled, there are various policies that would help offset unexpected

Travel Pricing

Air - Even with air travel seeing a boost this year. AAA finds that the average lowest airfare is 27.3% less than last year coming in at $132. Tuesday Wednesday are still the most expensive and heaviest travel days, while Monday and Thursday are generally the lightest and least expensive. Those wanting to book last minute travel will find the best fares about two weeks before Thanksgiving, but keep in mind availability may be limited.

Hotels - Mid-range hotel rates have increased about 39%, with average nightly rates ranging between $137 $172 for AAA Approved Hotels.

Car Rentals - Daily car rental rates have increased 4% compared to last Thanksgiving at $98. Over the summer, consumers experienced high costs and limited availability of rental cars in some markets due to the semi-conductor chip shortage impacting automakers. As the number of travelers continues to grow, it's important to reserve rental cars as early as possible. Consult AAA.com/Travel options and special bene-

Gas Prices - Gas prices surged in October and are likely to remain elevated through the holiday season. The average price for gasoline in South Carolina was $3.16 per gallon on Monday, November 8th.

line costing over a dollar more per gallon than this time last year, 90% of people plan to travel by car as their preferred mode of transportation. Although the car is still the most popular choice for travelers, a greater share will opt to travel by air and other modes such as bus, train or cruise this year. Whether you plan to do so by car or plane, it's important to know how to navigate the new travel landscape to avoid unnecessary stress and challenges on the way to your Thanksgiving destination.

Be Proactive. Book flights, car rentals, accommodations and other activities as early as possible. Prices are not going down and are still somewhat impacted by the limited capacity of flights and staffing challenges faced many industries. Consider working with a travel advisor who can make any last-minute changes to travel plans, explore travel insurance options and help plan a trip that meets your needs and comfort level this holiday season.

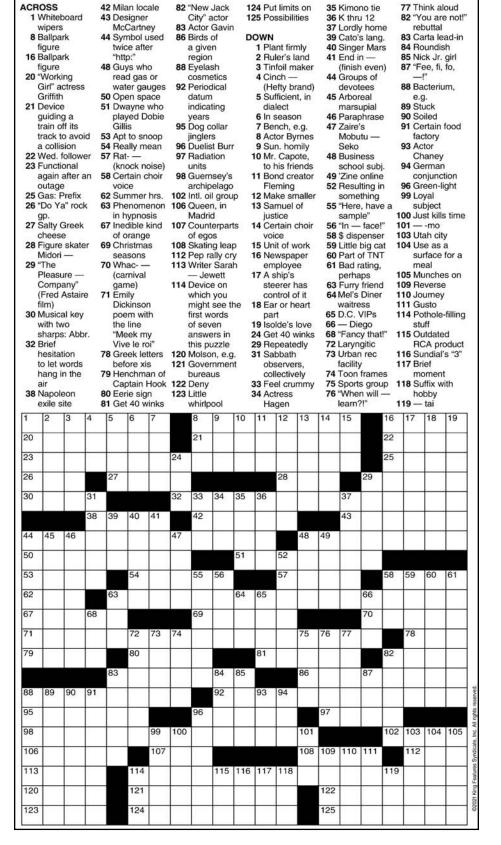

Be Patient. The roads and airports will be busy so plan ahead.

Arrive at the airport early so you'll have plenty of time to get through longer TSA lines and other travel checkpoints. For domestic travel, AAA suggests 2 hours ahead of departure time and 3 hours for international.

Consider booking a flight during non-peak travel periods to cut down on wait
