United Community Bank welcomes David Kershaw as Vice President, Legal Counsel

Greenville – United Community Bank recently announced the addition of David Kershaw as Vice President, Legal Counsel. In this role, Kershaw will work with the bank's Special Assets and Commercial Credit Counsel primarily on matters related to distressed loans, bankruptcies, collections, litigation, foreclosure and probate.

David Kershaw

Kershaw comes to United from Fox Rothschild, LLP where he focused on bankruptcy, financial services and civil litigation. He has significant experience in the area of creditors' rights, including time spent serving as a Judicial Law Clerk in the United States Bankruptcy Court, District of South Carolina. Kershaw holds a Juris Doctor from the University of South Carolina School of Law. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Marketing from South Carolina State University.

Pandemic cancels annual charity event; plans to return in 2021

Soup Day, the annual fundraiser by Hub City Empty Bowls, has been canceled for 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

"We postponed finalizing this decision in hopes that things would get better," said HCEB chairperson Bruce Bowyer. "The safety of the community is our top priority so we were left with no other choice. While we are sad that we can't host the event this year, we are planning to come back strong next year! RJ Rockers has already pledged to be our Soup Day host location in the fall 2021."

This news comes at a time when TOTAL Ministries, the beneficiary, has been hit especially hard to meet the needs of local needy families. Pandemic-related unemployment has caused a rise in the need for donated food.

To make direct donations to TOTAL Ministries, please visit online: TOTALministries.org.

Volunteers needed at HALTER (Healing and Learning Through Equine Relationships)

HALTER and its horses enhance the lives of children with challenges by providing equine assisted activities such as therapeutic riding and equine assisted learning to children with physical, cognitive and emotional/behavioral needs.

Volunteer opportunities abound for both children and adults. Children must be a minimum of 14 years old. Adult volunteers are especially needed.

On average, three volunteers are needed for each participant, all training is provided and experience with horses is not required. A weekly commitment of two hours is preferred.

Please contact Bethany Baxley at Volunteer@halter.com for additional information. The website address is www.halter.com.

Healthy Smiles of Spartanburg partners with The Spartanburg County Foundation

This Summer, Healthy Smiles of Spartanburg was one nonprofit organization to receive funding from The Spartanburg County Foundation in effort to provide essential services to Spartanburg County residents during the COVID-19 pandemic. Healthy Smiles of Spartanburg, Inc. was awarded $25,811 to support Healthy Smiles of Spartanburg Pediatric Oral Health Programs to provide access to dental care to qualifying children in Spartanburg County.

A staunch commitment to active involvement in the local community is a vital element of The Spartanburg County Foundation, many of which focus on improving the welfare of children and families in Spartanburg County, especially efforts that advance health equity.

Healthy Smiles of Spartanburg is dedicated to guiding parents and their children towards better oral healthcare by providing school-based screenings and education to all children during the school year, at community health fairs and during summer programs. Children, ages 4 to 18—who live in Spartanburg County and have no private dental insurance or Medicaid—are eligible for dental care at no cost to their families at Healthy Smiles children's dental clinic at Spartanburg Community College's central campus.

The Spartanburg County Foundation and Healthy Smiles partnership will impact the education and lives of many children in Spartanburg County.

Downtown Programming returned to Spartanburg on August 20th.

Downtown Programming has returned to Spartanburg's Downtown Cultural District

Downtown Programming has returned for another season. Chapman Cultural Center has brought back the street music series to the Spartanburg Downtown Cultural District. This season began on August 20th. Since its launch in August 2017, Downtown Programming has provided over 800 entertainment experiences through weekly live music and performance "buskers".

Downtown Programming is 100% funded by the Spartanburg Area Chamber of Commerce through the One Spartanburg initiative.

The City of Spartanburg is also a valued supporter of the program.

The goals for downtown programming include increasing, pedestrian traffic, retail sales for local businesses, use of downtown parking garages, awareness of the Spartanburg Downtown Cultural District, and diversity of both performing artists and audience.

The public is encouraged to safely interact with musicians while out in public by observing social distancing and through the use of face coverings when possible. Please also consider directly supporting musicians through mobile payments and tips when possible.

The S.C. Arts Commission awarded cultural district status in 2015 to the City of Spartanburg for downtown Spartanburg. The district is about four square blocks from Barnet Park to Spartanburg Community College's downtown campus on Kennedy Street, west on Kennedy to the Grain District, and bordered on its northern edge by the Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium.

United Way of the Piedmont's annual leaders event moved virtual to highlight leadership during change

United Way of the Piedmont held its annual Corporate & Community Leaders event virtually on Wednesday, September 2nd. Over 100 leaders across Spartanburg, Cherokee, and Union counties convened online to hear from keynote speaker Mike Brenan, Regional President of BB&T, now Truist, for South Carolina.

The event's theme, Leadership During Times of Change, shed light on the challenges posed by COVID-19 and pointed to continued efforts to address inequities across the region.

President and CEO of United Way of the Piedmont, Paige Stephenson, commented, "We are excited to provide this event in a new, adapted format. United Way celebrates the leadership of our corporate and community partners through these changing times. As we continue to respond to critical community issues, we encourage leaders to take action in the face of challenges."

United Way remains focused on fighting for the stability of every community member.

Stephenson reminded attendees that the various issues of inequity brought to light during the pandemic are not new.

The event's keynote speaker Brenan further stressed the need for action amidst change.

Brenan discussed how Truist has navigated the merger of BB&T and Suntrust, the challenges of COVID-19, and why it has never been more important to be involved in our communities. Noting the importance of collaboration, Brenan said, "You've got to be able to do the hard work. You've got to reach out and connect with people you haven't in the past."

Both Brenan and Stephenson directed attendees to engage in the present moment and adapt in crisis. "This is the world we live in. This is the world that we need to have an impact and be successful in," Brenan said.

In closing, Stephenson reminded viewers about United Way's ongoing push to reach its 2030 Bold Goal to decrease the number of individuals living below self-sufficiency by 11,000. To support these efforts, Stephenson invited leaders to engage and move from response to recovery and rebuilding. "We have the opportunity to make great change during this crisis—to be the community we desire to be," she said.

As Stephenson remarked, "The only way forward in great times of change is to be united."

For more information about this event and how to take action through United Way, visit www.uwpiedmont.org/ccl/

Spartanburg First Steps/Quality Counts named as a finalist for Dick & Tunky Riley Education Award

Greenville - Three South Carolina initiatives supporting public education are being recognized for their effectiveness in improving student outcomes.

Spartanburg First Steps/Quality Counts was named as a finalist. They create high-quality learning environments and promotes best practices for teachers that help prepare students for success in school and life. By providing targeted professional development, mentorship and coaching, and nationally recognized assessments, Spartanburg First Steps/Quality Counts lays the foundation for continuous improvement.

Presented by Furman

University's Riley Institute, the WhatWorksSC Award ceremony is one of the biggest celebrations of public education in the state and will take place virtually this year on October 6. The winner will be announced by former U.S. Secretary of Education and S.C. Governor Richard W. Riley.

Corn adds pop to salads

There's an old saying that the best way to prepare freshly picked corn is to have a pot of water boiling in the corn patch so that you can cook it instantly.

It's best to cook fresh corn as soon after it's been picked as possible. If fresh corn isn't stored or prepared properly, its natural sugars start to diminish quickly, resulting in a loss of sweetness within a couple of days. If you can't purchase fresh corn, frozen corn is an acceptable and delicious substitute for most recipes.

Corn on the cob is an essential part of a summer meal and provides many health benefits year-round. The average serving of corn on the cob has about a quarter of your daily requirement for thiamin, which helps maintain memory, as well as beta-cryptoxanthin, which aids in lung health. Corn is high in folic acid, which is needed for women who are taking oral contraceptives. It also is a good source of fiber and contains fair amounts of vitamin C, magnesium, niacin and potassium. One serving (one ear of corn) has about 83 calories.

A corn kernel is made up of four major parts: starch, fiber, protein and oil. Corn can be processed in different ways to tap into these components, and it's used in all kinds of products. A typical grocery store will contain 4,000 products that list corn ingredients on the label, but many other products also depend on corn -- from paper goods and cardboard packaging to meat, milk, eggs, poultry and other protein products that come from corn-fed animals.

Here's some tips from the Utah State Extension Service for picking and storing fresh corn:

- * Look for corn with good green husk color, silk ends that are free from decay or worm injury and stem ends that are not too discolored or dried. Select ears that are well-covered with plump, not-too-mature kernels. Avoid ears with undeveloped kernels, ears with very large kernels and dark-yellow kernels, because they can be tough and not very sweet.

- * Husk one side of the corn. Press a fingernail into one of the kernels to test the liquid. Ripe corn should have a milky-looking liquid; overripe corn will have either a clear liquid or none at all.

- * The sugar in corn is quickly lost, so for optimum quality process it as soon after picking as possible. If you can't cook fresh corn immediately, store it in the refrigerator.

Furman to begin construction on Davis Faxon Training Facility at REK

Greenville - Furman is set to begin construction this fall on the new Davis Faxon Training Facility at REK. This 100% donor-funded facility, which will be utilized by both the Paladin men's and women's golf programs, is named in honor of former Paladin golf greats Cindy Davis and Brad Faxon, who provided lead gifts in the capital campaign.

A three-time All-American selection, Davis was the individual runner-up at the 1983 NCAA Championship where she helped the Paladins to a ninth-place finish, and she went on to finish 12th and lead Furman to a third-place showing at the event as a senior the following season. The 1984 Edna Hartness Furman Female Athlete of the Year, she captured individual medalist honors at the 1983 U.S./Japan Cup and was inducted into the Furman Athletics Hall of Fame in 2011. Davis, the former president of Nike Golf, has served as both vice president of the LPGA and senior vice president of the Golf Channel.

A 1991 inductee into the Furman Athletics Hall of Fame, Faxon won the 1983 Haskins Award, which is given annually to the nation's most outstanding male collegiate golfer. A two-time All-American, he competed on the 1983 Walker Cup Team and received both the 1983 Golf Magazine and NCAA Coaches' Awards as the country's top amateur golfer. Faxon, who turned professional in 1983, captured eight tournament victories on the PGA Tour. He led the PGA Tour in putting average in 1996, 1999, and 2000, when he set the single-season record with only 1.704 putts per green in regulation.

"We are so grateful for the generosity of Cindy, Brad, and many others who stepped up to ensure that Furman has one of the best facilities in the country," said Furman women's golf head coach Jeff Hull. "Our outdoor training space is regarded as one of the best in the country. The renovation of the existing REK building, as well as the new Davis Faxon Training Facility, will celebrate our great past while creating an environment for continued development well into the future."

Over $800,000 in donor commitments have been secured to fund a two-phase expansion and upgrade to the REK Complex. Phase one, the addition of the new state-of-the-art facility, will begin this fall and has an anticipated completion date of early spring 2021. The Davis Faxon Training Facility at REK will boast six hitting stations in three covered bays, an indoor putting studio, a club repair shop, plus a workout area. Graphics and branding that celebrate the Furman golf legacy will be prominent in the space, which is being designed in collaboration with women's golf alumna Christina Harrell of Jack Porter.

Besides providing an indoor training alternative for the Paladin teams during inclement weather, the Davis Faxon Training Facility at REK will help Furman continue to attract the nation's top talent and both develop and retain elite golfers. Not only will the facility offer new amenities beyond those in the current facility, it will celebrate the legacy and longstanding tradition of Furman golf by honoring Paladin legends such as Dottie Pepper, Beth Daniel, and Betsy King, along with Faxon and Davis.

Phase two of the project includes a renovation of the REK Center, with construction to begin as commitments are funded. Office suites and locker rooms for both programs will be renovated, and the building will feature a new Frank Keener Team Meeting Room, generously gifted by Judy Keener of Nashville, Tenn., which will include study space and a kitchen area for student-athletes to utilize. Graphics and branding from Jack Porter will be prominent in the locker room, team meeting room, lobby, and coaches offices. The reconfigured REK will better facilitate coaching, recruiting, and team building.

"This will be a facility that the students will be able to utilize year round to help reach their potential," said Paladin men's head coach Matt Davidson. "Our outdoor practice area at the REK Center is already one of the best in the Southeast, and to be able to have an indoor facility and renovated REK team clubhouse to match will benefit both player development and recruiting. We couldn't be more excited. Thank you so much to Cindy and Brad and so many others who generously made this possible."

Furman plans to hold a dedication ceremony for the new facility in the spring of 2021.

Greenville Arena District and Levy collaborate to elevate the food and beverage experience at Bon Secours Wellness Arena

Greenville - Recently, the Greenville Arena District, owner and operator of Bon Secours Wellness Arena, announced an exclusive, multi-year partnership with Levy to operate and elevate its dining and hospitality experience. On September 1, Levy, the industry leader in creating incredible experiences at world-class sports and entertainment venues and events, will partner with the Bon Secours Wellness Arena to craft unique food and beverage experiences during concerts, Swamp Rabbit hockey games, sporting events, community events, and private group events.

"Levy's innovative approach to partnerships, award-winning culinary initiatives, and their detailed approach to fan hospitality positions the Arena to deliver top-tier guest experiences on-par with world class entertainment options. The foundation of the elevated experience will be deeply rooted in our community through locally sourced foods, focused environmental and sustainability efforts, community outreach and food rescue programs, and career training and opportunity," said Beth Paul, General Manager of Bon Secours Wellness Arena. "The selection of a hospitality partner is a critical decision, and Levy is perfectly aligned with the strategic objectives and core values of the Greenville Arena District."

"We share the same vision as the Arena District to create a guest experience for the Greenville and the Upstate community that celebrates the hospitality that makes this place so warm, welcoming, and unique," said Andy Lansing, President and CEO of Levy. "Whether a favorite, must-have restaurant or signature recipe you can only find at the Arena, each visit will bring guests together around the food story and tastes that define dining in the Carolinas."

Together, Levy and Greenville Arena District's management teams are reimagining dining experiences at Bon Secours Wellness Arena. COVID-19 has radically changed the live entertainment industry, and evolved safety practices are at the core of the guest experience. Upon reopening, guests can expect that all food service operations will comply with the most stringent quality standards.

Levy will draw on its strong reputation for elevating local communities and flavors nearby at Spectrum Center, Truist Field, and Wells Fargo Championship in Charlotte, as well as State Farm Arena and Mercedes-Benz Stadium in Atlanta. The company is also the market leader serving fans at major arenas around the country, including Barclays Center in Brooklyn, United Center in Chicago, and Staples Center in LA. Levy's portfolio includes iconic events like the Grammy Awards, Kentucky Derby, and US Open Tennis Championships.

Venue Hospitality Solutions (www.venuehospitalitysolutions.com), led by Michael Bekolay, advised the Greenville Arena District throughout the selection process resulting in the very best operating solution and partnership for the Bon Secours Wellness Arena.

The Greenville Arena

District owns and operates the Bon Secours Wellness Arena located in Greenville. The Bon Secours Wellness Arena is the leading sports and entertainment venue in South Carolina and has been in operation for over 20 years.

Tips to ease the financial recovery process after a disaster

(StatePoint) While the COVID-19 crisis continues to be top of mind for many Americans, it's important to remember that other disasters can still occur with little or no warning, making it vital to prepare.

This September, which is National Preparedness Month, get started by checking out Ready.gov and the American Red Cross, two great resources for creating a plan to protect you and your family's immediate safety. As for your financial preparedness, consider these tips from Wells Fargo:

- A natural disaster could potentially destroy paper copies of documents needed for tax and insurance purposes. While you should protect these documents in a fireproof, water-proof box that locks, you should also possess electronic copies. Save birth and marriage certificates, wills, deeds, tax returns, insurance policies and stock and bond certificates on a thumb drive or in a secure location in the cloud.

- Keep an up-to-date inventory of your possessions. One easy way to do so is to use your smartphone to take photographs or videos of everything valuable and store this in the cloud. Your documentation should include cars, vehicles and electronics, as well as any interior and exterior home improvements you've made which could increase your property value and help with insurance claims.

- Review what your insurance policy covers and determine if additional insurance or coverage is needed. Be sure to take into account how life has changed in the COVID-19 era. For example, emergency shelters may not be an option for your family given social distancing guidelines, so you may want to consider adding coverage for temporary housing to your policy.

- If you haven't already done so, consider setting up online banking, mobile banking, automatic bill pay and electronic account alerts. Should you be displaced from your home, these measures will make it easier to stay on top of your accounts and bills. Take this opportunity to ensure your online profiles are up-to-date in case your bank or lender need to contact you post-disaster.

- Note that a disaster can shut down local ATMs and banks for days or even weeks. Include easily accessible cash in your emergency supply kit.

- Know in advance if and what resources your financial institutions provide. For example Wells Fargo customers, including those with home mortgages, home equity, small business, and auto loans, can contact 800-TO-WELLS or visit wells Fargo.com/recovery to learn more.

"If COVID-19 has taught us anything it's that disasters come in all shapes and sizes," says Rullah Price, senior vice president, head of Wells Fargo Enterprise Incident Communications. "However, developing a plan this National Preparedness Month could save you countless hours of work and make the financial recovery process a lot less stressful."

National Preparedness Month: Red Cross research shows older adults more vulnerable in disasters

Columbia - According to new research from the American Red Cross Scientific Advisory Council and the American Academy of Nursing, older adults are more vulnerable and experience more casualties after a natural disaster compared to other age groups. That's why this National Preparedness Month, the Red Cross of South Carolina encourages everyone, especially older adults, to get ready for emergencies.

Being prepared for disasters is important for people of all ages. But there are several factors that make older adults more vulnerable during a natural disaster:

- * Older adults may have more chronic conditions and medication concerns.

- * They may be more dependent on assistive devices like walkers and eyeglasses, and support from caregivers.

- * Living in social isolation can also make them more vulnerable.

"We all care deeply about the older adults in our lives, and during the pandemic they are more vulnerable than ever," said Rod Tolbert, the CEO for the Red Cross of South Carolina. "Now is the time to ask if they need help assessing their needs and making a plan, before an emergency occurs."

PREPARE IN ADVANCE: To be prepared, older adults should think about what they would do during a disaster before it occurs. Understand how your medical, physical and cognitive needs may affect your ability to respond if you had to stay in your home for two weeks or more or had to evacuate. Building a support network and identifying helpers such as family, friends, neighbors, caregivers and care providers who may be able to assist is vital. Older adults should meet with these supporters and decide how to communicate in an emergency.

Additional research findings and resources, including our new Disaster and Emergency Preparedness for Older Adults checklist and booklet, are available at redcross.org/olderadults

DISASTERS DURING A PANDEMIC

Preparing for emergencies is a little different this year, but the three basic action steps remain the same for everyone: Build a Kit, Make a Plan and Be Informed. Assemble two kits of emergency supplies (a stay-at-home kit and an evacuation kit) and a one-month supply of prescription medication. Include personal hygiene items, cleaning and disinfectant supplies and cloth face coverings. Some supplies may be hard to get due to the pandemic, and availability may worsen in a disaster, so start gathering supplies now.

Disasters can force people to leave their homes, even in areas under stay-at-home mandates. By having an emergency plan your family can react quickly if a disaster strikes.

- * Ask friends or relatives outside your area if you would be able to stay with them.

- * Check and see if they have any COVID-19 symptoms or have people in their home at higher risk for serious illness. If they do, make other arrangements.

- * Check with hotels, motels and campgrounds to see if they are open and if pets are allowed.

- * Due to the pandemic, stay current on advice and restrictions from your state and local public health authorities as it may affect your actions, available resources and shelter facilities.

- * Learn first aid and CPR skills so you'll know what to do until emergency help arrives.

- * Download the free Red

Cross Emergency App for weather alerts and information on what to do before, during and after disasters.

Additional resources for preparing during the COVID-19 pandemic are available at redcross.org/coronavirus

BLOOD, VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Severe weather during a pandemic can have an even greater impact on the ability of the Red Cross to collect lifesaving blood products due to an increase in canceled blood drives and decreased donor turnout in impacted areas. The need for blood is constant, and volunteer donors are the only source of blood for those in need. If you are feeling well, please make an appointment today to give by using the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 800-RED-CROSS.

As you prepare for disasters, the Red Cross is preparing too. We encourage people to join us by volunteering in their local community. A variety of positions are available including disaster shelter and health supervisors.

Find out more at redcross.org/volunteer.

The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides emotional support to victims of disasters; supplies about 40% of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; provides international humanitarian aid; and supports military members and their families. # How to treat today's most common skin issues (StatePoint) Spending a lot more time at home indoors these days or adjusting to going back outside? New habits and big lifestyle changes can have an effect on one's skin.

Here are some of the more common skin care issues associated with life today and their solutions, some of which can be easily found at the drugstore:

• Dry skin: Our new reality of wearing masks can have a drying effect on our skin. But you can easily enhance your skin's own moisture-retention with a serum-containing dermatologist-recommended hyaluronic acid.

"Using gentle and lightweight skincare, especially now that the temperatures are rising, will properly hydrate your skin without clogging the pores, even under a mask. Hyaluronic acid products, such as serums, that are correctly formulated will also help plump the skin and reduce wrinkles," says Dr. Rocio Rivera, VP of scientific communications, L'Oréal Paris.

For long lasting hydration, apply two to three drops of L'Oréal Paris 1.5% Pure Hyaluronic Acid Serum to the face and neck every morning and evening – its lightweight and fast-absorbing texture works well under a mask.

• Not prioritizing me-time: If you have a lot going on these days, you may forget to take some time for self-care. Beyond your skin care routine -- which you should continue to maintain -- you can also promote a healthy-looking glow by prioritizing sleep, eating a well-balanced diet, staying hydrated and getting regular exercise. "Sun protection equals skin health and it is the most important age preventive product in your skin-care routine. A broad spectrum SPF formula is always a must: Rain or shine, indoors, outdoors, and yes -- all over the face, includes under the mask," says Dr. Rocio Rivera.

• Light exposure: Spending large portions of the day indoors unfortunately doesn't eliminate risks associated with light exposure. With more screen time comes increased exposure to blue light. What's more, you are still susceptible to incidental sun exposure coming in through windows of your home and car.

Refresh and protect your skin with a moisturizer that also has broad spectrum SPF, such as L'Oréal Paris Revitalift Triple PowerSPF 30, which can be smoothed over the face and neck every morning. Formulated with pro-retinol, vitamin C and hyaluronic acid, it will make your skin feel smooth, soft and refreshed after use.

• Lack of glow: For many, skin glow is a key sign of skin health, and while you may not be catching as many rays outdoors these days to achieve this, there is an aesthetically-pleasing and much healthier way to achieve a sun-kissed glow without the damage and pre-mature aging caused by UV exposure. Stash your cabinet with the latest innovation from L'Oréal Paris, Sublime Bronze Water Mousse. Its clear liquid formula delivers a seamless, streak-free application and quick absorption for a natural-looking bronze tan that does not transfer. Infused with coconut water and vitamin E, it leaves skin soft and beachy-smelling.

For best results, shake well. Pump into hands and smooth evenly over clean, exfoliated skin. Allow four to eight hours for the color to fully develop before showering. For a longer-lasting tan, apply three times over 12 to 24 hours. Wash hands thoroughly after use. Let skin dry completely before putting on clothes.

More skin and beauty tips can be found by visiting lorealparis.com/skinhub.

Your new lifestyle means now, more than ever, you should not neglect your skin. A few simple steps can keep your skin refreshed and healthy-looking.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF

Find at least six differences in details between panels.

Differences: 1. Baseball has been added. 2. Building is gone. 3. Catcher's shoes are different. 4. Fence has been repaired. 5. Pritchard's pants are longer. 6. Boy's hat is different.

A CLASSIC COIN PUZZLE! Place 9 coins on the table and challenge your friends to arrange them in 10 rows, each row containing 3 coins. Below is our solution.

THIS MAN is about to install a new door in his house. Can you take the letters in NEW DOOR and rearrange them to make one word?

Answer: The letters in NEW DOOR can be arranged to spell ONE WORD, just what we asked for.

SUMMER CAMP BADGES! At right is a word square. Can you find the four five-letter words that match the definitions below? All words used must read the same both across and down.

- Made jeering remarks.
- Copy of an object.
- (BADGE, in place.)
- Encouraged to act.
- Feats, or exploits.

Answers: 1. Jibes. 2. Image. 3. Badge. 4. Egged (on). 5. Deeds.

Complaint

THE PLAINTIFF, by and through his undersigned attorney, hereby complains of the Defendant and would respectfully show unto this honorable Court as follows:

- The Plaintiff is a resident of the State of South Carolina, County of Spartanburg and has been for the statutory period.
- The Defendant is a resident of the State of South Carolina, County of Spartanburg.
- The parties are the parents of one (1) minor child, namely R.C.S. (born in 2009).
- The Parties were previously before the Court and issued a Final Order in CA: 2011-DR-42-1253. In that order, issued by the Spartanburg County Family Court on June 25, 2012, the Court determined that the parties should have joint custody of the minor child.
Father was granted visitations pursuant to Judge Brown's Standard Visitation Schedule.
- The Plaintiff is informed and believes there has been a substantial and material change in circumstances since the parties' were issued their Final Order which includes the following:

- The Defendant/Mother left the child in the custody of Plaintiff/Father on April 2019 and has not returned or tried to make contact with the minor child.

- The Plaintiff is informed and believes that the Defendant's visitation should be suspended or restricted as the Court deems appropriate under the circumstances temporarily and permanently.

- The Plaintiff is informed and believes that he shall have sole custody of the minor child temporarily and permanently.

- The Plaintiff is informed and believes that a Guardian ad Litem should be appointed to protect the interest of the parties' minor child.

- The Plaintiff is informed and believes that his previously ordered child support obligation should be suspended and terminated retroactive to the date the minor child came into his physical custody.
- The Plaintiff is informed
and believes that the Defendant should be required to pay child support in accordance with the S.C. Child Support Guidelines temporarily and permanently.

- The Plaintiff is informed and believes he is entitled to attorney fees and costs temporarily and permanently.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff, having fully complained of the Defendant, prays that the Court inquire into the matters alleged herein, grant him the relief sought and for such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
